

America Is Loser In Claims Fight Against Mexicans

Country Is Held Not Responsible for Murder of American Citizens in Majority Report.

AMERICAN MEMBER
ASKS NEW HEARING

Judge Perry Declares He Knew Nothing About Opinion Reached by His Two Associates.

Mexico City, April 26.—(AP)—Dr. Rodrigo Octavio, of Brazil, the neutral presiding judge of the Mexican-American special claims commission, and Fernando G. Roa, the Mexican member, today signed and publicly announced their decision against the United States in what is known as the Santa Isabel case, involving the massacre of American mining engineers in 1916.

They declared in their decision that Mexico is not liable for damages.

Judge Ernest B. Perry, representing the United States on the commission, dissented, denying that this constitutes a legal decision. He pronounced the proceedings null and void and not binding on the United States.

Senator Octavio announced he was leaving tonight for Vera Cruz, Havana and Brazil. Judge Perry will remain here for several days. The commission now stands adjourned amid the controversy, repeating the history of the March breakup.

No Agreement Reached.

That the decision has been officially rendered, the representatives of the United States asserted that no agreement has been reached in the Santa Isabel case which would mean the establishment of a precedent for many other claims.

At the session of the commission today Judge Perry at first refused to take part, but later entered vigorous argument with the other commissioners.

He charged that he had not been consulted in formulating the decision, which officially, he knew nothing.

"The fact is," he declared, "the presiding commissioner's opinion has been in the hands of the Mexican delegate for some time. Isn't that true?"—addressing Dr. Roa directly.

Dr. Roa replied: "I do not know."

Senator Octavio said: "I sent you my opinion."

"When?"

"On March 5."

Judge Perry then asked: "Is that your opinion today? I know nothing about the opinion you intended filing today. I have never seen it."

Senator Octavio declared the meeting adjourned until 3 o'clock.

Perry's Position.

Judge Perry announced: "The American commissioner declines to enter into any conference with the presiding commissioner or Mexican commissioner regarding the Santa Isabel case unless it is made a matter of record that they have not yet reached a decision, that their minds are open, that they will render a decision in accordance with the evidence and facts to be presented, and that they are ready to discuss the facts and law and so render a decision. Until then the American commissioner refuses to enter the conference."

Senator Octavio: "We will adjourn until 3 o'clock."

Judge Perry: "All right; I will be present."

After they had separated the commissioners declined to make further observations. British Minister Oves was an interested spectator at this early session, which was public.

Attorney H. A. Basham, adviser to the American embassy, filed a formal motion for the reopening of the case and a new hearing. Senator Octavio admitted the motion, subject to a future definite ruling.

The presiding judge designated Tampico as the place for the next meeting, and the date September 2.

Judge Perry said he did not know whether he would attend this meeting; his action would depend on future developments and the attitude of the state department at Washington.

'DOUBLE-CROSSING' TIGERS CHARGED TO U. S. ATTORNEY

Senate Committee Is Told Negroes Were Allowed To Substitute for White Men in Mobile Cases.

$18,000 COLLECTED
BY HARRY FRENCH

Bootleggers Pay Large Sums in Belief That Court Protection Would Be Given Them.

Washington, April 26.—(AP)—A strange tale of "double-crossing," two bootleggers paying the $100 "Coolidge campaign fund" assessment of a United States district attorney in 1924, and of negroes substituting for white defendants in liquor cases was unfolded today before a senate judiciary subcommittee.

The disclosures were made by opponents of the reappointment of Aubrey Boyles as United States district attorney at Mobile, Ala. It was disclosed that a portion of the Alabama Bar association is against the reappointment.

Bootleggers Assessed.

Much of the testimony centered about the activities of Harry French, under-cover man in the district attorney's office, who collected $18,000 in six months from bootleggers who "assumed" that he had enough influence with Attorney Boyles to obtain immunity from prosecution, Assistant United States District Attorney Joseph Johns stated. He added that he believed that French, in permitting French to collect the money and to use his name, was paving the way for future prosecutions, as French informed against the men from whom he received the money.

John said that he had no evidence that French was receiving any portions of the collected money and that he collected the money and to use his name, was paving the way for future prosecutions, as French informed against the men from whom he received the money.

"He put the money on the desk,"

UNIVERSITY GETS $125,000 BEQUEST

Thomas E. Mitchell, of Columbus, Wills Sum to Georgia Colleges To Aid Boys and Girls.

Athens, Ga., April 26. (Special.)—A fund amounting to $125,000 has been left by the University of Georgia for the purpose of aiding deserving boys and girls to obtain an education by the will of the late Dr. Thomas E. Mitchell, of Columbus. It was learned today, following a meeting of the trustees of the fund, that the fund will be divided between the university and the Georgia Tech in Atlanta, the State Normal school here and the State College for Women at Milledgeville. The money will be invested by the trustees and the interest will be used to aid boys and girls coming within provisions of the bequest.

Dr. Mitchell, who leaves the university $125,000, also provided for a similar sum to be given to Vanderbilt university, it was learned.

It was also announced that Professor William Blackburn, of South Carolina, has been elected as instructor in the English department, succeeding Professor Sanders, resigning.

Professor Blackburn is a graduate of Furman, a Rhodes scholar, and has taught at Carnegie Tech.

Atlanta Remembers Soldiers of the Old South In Downtown Parade and Memorial Ceremonies

Thousands of Atlantans jammed the sidewalks Monday afternoon and witnessed the parade which marched through city streets in observance of Southern Confederate Memorial day. Upper scene shows the few surviving heroes in grey who fought under the "Stars and Bars" in the conflict of the '60s. The lower picture shows a company of soldiers leading the parade as it approached the Whitehall street viaduct.

Governor Brandon, of Alabama, Delivers Address at Oakland Cemetery in Tribute to Heroes

Atlanta's part in the state-wide observance of Memorial day was featured Monday by a mammoth parade, ceremonies at Oakland cemetery and the closing of all state and city departments and practically all business houses.

Governor W. W. Brandon, of Alabama, was principal speaker at Oakland cemetery exercises, paying highest tribute to the courage of the south's dead in the war between the states and those living remnants of Lee's army. His address, one of the most forceful ever heard in Atlanta, was before a throng which had gathered shortly after noon at the cemetery and was augmented later by regular army men, national guardsmen, reserve corps members, veterans of recent wars and hundreds of civilians—men and women—who joined the procession as it proceeded through the principal streets of the city.

Business Halted.

All business of the city was practically at a standstill during the day. Offices of the city, state and county were closed. Half holiday was observed by a majority of business firms of the city to permit employees to participate in the annual parade and ceremonies.

A group of members of the Atlanta unit of the Women's Overseas league, all in uniform, formed a part of the big procession which received generous applause of thousands lined along the streets.

Flags of the Confederacy, the Stars and Bars, hung from hundreds of offices buildings and residences, while the Stars and Stripes everywhere was to be seen along the streets, flung from windows in offices and homes, and not infrequently were seen flags of other countries—allies of America in the world war.

At 9:30 o'clock Monday morning an impressive ceremony was staged at Five Points with the raising of a large flag and its dedication. The American Legion sponsored this feature of the day's program, with members of the marine corps aiding in the exercises.

Speaker Honored.

At noon Governor Brandon was guest at a luncheon at the Capital City Club of Major John S. Cohen, of The Journal, to which a group of leaders of the city were invited.

Those invited included Governor Clifford Walker, Mayor Walter A. Sims, Senator Hoke Smith, Comptroller General William A. Wright, Hollins N. Randolph, Bolling H. Jones, Clark Howell, F. A. Wilson-Lawson, W. D. Hoffman, J. Carroll Payne, H. M. Atkinson, M. B. Welborn, C. A. Wickersham, Robert F. Maddox, John K. Otter, Colonel William L. Peel, Howard Candler, Charles D. Orme, Robert C. Alston.

GERMANY AGREES TO DEFEND RUSSIA IN LEAGUE COUNCIL

Agreement Is Revealed In Exchange of Notes Between Two Countries Made Public Monday.

BY ERIC KEYSER.

Berlin, April 26.—Soviet Russia, by notes exchanged in Berlin Monday, gained assurance that when Germany enters the League of Nations the soviet union will have a staunch defender at Geneva. The exchange of notes followed release for publication of the Russo-German neutrality treaty which was signed Saturday.

"The Russian and German governments have discussed fundamental questions in connection with Germany's entry into the League of Nations," said Foreign Minister Stresemann in his note to Soviet Ambassador Krestinsky. "Germany is convinced that her adherence to the League of Nations cannot possibly be an obstacle to friendly development of relations between Germany and the soviet union."

Would Oppose Tendencies.

"Should tendencies appear within the league which contradict this fundamental idea of peace and which might be directed in a one-sided way against the soviet, then Germany would emphatically oppose such tendencies."

"Germany assumes that the fundamental idea of the German policy toward the soviet union will not be hampered by Germany's determination to observe loyally its obligations under articles 16 and 17 of the league covenant."

"Disregarding other conditions, according to these articles, sanctions against the soviet union would come into consideration only if the soviet union initiated aggressive warfare against a third power. In this connection it must be taken into account that the question of whether or not the soviet is the aggressor can only be determined by Germany, providing the decision is to be binding on Germany."

Would Not Participate.

"Therefore accusations which a third power might level against the soviet union—provided Germany considers those accusations unjustified—would not force Germany to participate in any measures against the soviet which might result from enforcement of article 16. As to the extent Germany would be able to participate in the matter of sanctions, the German government refers to the note of the Locarno signatories delivered to the German delegations after the treaties were signed."

The soviet ambassador acknowledged the foreign minister's note accepting its terms in full.

Publication of the Russo-German pact revealed that the Rapallo treaty would be the basis of relations between the two governments. It provides for political, economic and military neutrality in the event that either power is attacked by a third.

PROBE OF VETERAN GUARDIANS ASKED BY CONGRESSMAN

Washington, April 26.—(AP)—An investigation into the guardianship services of a veterans' bureau and into the administration of guardianships of the mentally incompetent under the world war veterans' act was proposed in a resolution introduced today by Representative Bulwinkle, democrat, North Carolina.

The investigation would be made by the house world war veterans legislation committee.

PROFIT ON OPERA NOW IS ASSURED

Directors of Association Authorize Announcement That Guarantors Will Not Be Called On.

There will be no call upon opera guarantors for the season of 1926.

This definite announcement was made Monday by Colonel William Lawson Peel, president of the Atlanta Music Festival association.

His statement said that final check of the box-office receipts for last week, when the Metropolitan Opera company presented seven of the greatest performances in Atlanta's 16 years of operatic history, had not yet been made. The work of totaling the receipts had progressed so far, however, that it was certain that all expenses would be paid, with at least a small balance remaining, and directors of the association authorized the announcement that they would not call on the guarantors.

For the past four years it has been necessary, after each annual week of grand opera, to call on the guarantors for a certain percentage to make up a deficit. Previous to 1922 the guarantors had not been called upon, but in each of the years, 1922, 1923, 1924 and 1925 they had to make good what otherwise have been a loss on the week.

Since the close of the week last Saturday night there has been much high praise bestowed upon the handling of this year's opera performances at the auditorium. The splendid arrangements were chiefly due to the supervision extended by three officials of the association, Colonel Peel, Charles Howard Candler, treasurer; and Robert Parker, secretary.

The death last fall of C. B. Bidwell, who for years had been local manager for the annual opera seasons, left this place vacant and, after much discussion, the association directors found it was impossible to locate a man who could even approximately fill Chief Bidwell's place. They therefore made no appointment to the vacancy, but decided that the officials of the organization would simply devote close personal attention to the handling of the multitudinous details themselves. Therefore the three named above, who were at the auditorium at all times during the week and who selected the executive personnel of all departments of opera work, both in advance and during the week itself, are chiefly responsible for the success of the week and the smooth manner in which everything moved.

BOND COMMISSION TO PLAN SPENDING $8,000,000 ISSUE

William Candler, Chairman, Calls Meeting of Members for Final Organization.

William Candler, chairman of the bond commission which will supervise expenditure of the $8,000,000 bond issue for civic improvements voted March 24, Monday called a meeting of the commission for 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at room 1321 Candler building to complete final organization.

The commission is composed of 17 members—one from each ward and five from the city at large. Mr. Candler was elected chairman at a meeting several days ago and Henderson Hallman was named secretary.

The meeting Wednesday will be to select a permanent executive secretary and to appoint several committees to assist in making recommendations to the commission. This will comprise the entire business for the meeting, according to announcement. It is expected that a committee to hear petitions and supervise expenditure for all five of the items included in the bond issue will be named.

These five items consist of $3,500,000 for schools and school equipment; $500,000 for waterworks improvement; $2,000,000 for sewers; $1,000,000 as the city's part in construction of the Pryor street and Central avenue viaducts, and $1,000,000 for the new city hall to be located adjacent to the Fulton county courthouse.

"The commission really came into existence when the bonds were validated by order of Fulton superior court, and we are calling this meeting to avoid delays which might occur if we failed to organize and get ready for work before the funds are available July 1," Mr. Candler declared.

"We shall endeavor to begin work on improvements authorized just as soon as money is forthcoming, and to this end we plan to begin at once a study of the city's needs for every case in which we are empowered to act. Session of the committee Friday will be private and only members of the committee will be admitted. This is because we consider this a business organization, and we want to work out details to the very best interests of every citizen."

New Instructions Sent to Berenger By French Cabinet

SENATE RATIFIES DEBT AGREEMENT WITH BELGIANS

France Told To Make Payments for First Few Years More Liberal in Next Proposal.

COOLIDGE TO SIGN
DEBT AGREEMENT

Senate Now Expected To Ratify Pacts With Latvia, Rumania, Estonia and Czechoslovakia.

BY THOMAS L. STOKES.

Washington, April 26.—The senate has cleared away the final major foreign debt settlement on its calendar by ratifying the Belgian agreement Monday, while Ambassador Berenger has put his experts to work to increase the figures in his proposal for settling the French debt, the only sizeable outstanding obligation not yet funded.

The American commission Monday turned down the French proposal as it stood and asked the ambassador to try again, with his eyes especially on more liberal payments for the first few years as was predicted by The United News. Members of the commission will study the proposal carefully, in order to aid the French ambassador in revising the figures upward.

The senate ratified the funding agreement for Belgium's debt of $17,750,000 Monday in rather short order. The vote was 55 to 20, along substantially the same lines as that ratifying the Italian settlement. As the house has approved the settlement it now goes to President Coolidge, who will sign it.

Other Pacts Taken Up.

Immediately after ratifying the Belgian settlement, the senate took up the funding agreement with Latvia, whose debt is only $5,775,000, a trifle compared with some of the others. This pact was laid aside temporarily, however. It is expected to be approved speedily as are the three others pending, those with Rumania, Estonia and Czechoslovakia.

Shortly after ratification of the Belgian agreement, it was announced at the treasury that the debt commission had been called to meet Tuesday morning to consider a plan for funding the war debt of France.

It is believed that the payments while annual payments on the post-armistice debt begin at $1,100,000 and graduate to $3,000,000 in the 62nd year.

The chief fault found with the French proposal was the initial payment of $25,000,000 annually for the first five years, which is only $5,000,000 more than the United States receives now from France and is $15,000,000 less than was offered in the final Caillaux proposal. As outlined previously the annual payment increased to $30,000,000 in the sixth year and graduated to $120,000,000 at the end of the 10th year, after which $125,000,000 a year was to be paid.

It is believed that the payments will be so adjusted as to provide at least $40,000,000 for the first five years, as in the last Caillaux offer, or that a graduated scale that will rise more steeply at the outset will be worked out, leaving the final large payments about as they are.

INDIAN AGENTS
REMOVED IN PROBE

Muskogee, Okla., April 26.—(AP)—Temporary removal of Shade E. Wallen, superintendent of the five civil tribes and his assistant, C. J. Hunt, was the first action today by representatives of the interior department when they opened an inquiry here into administrative details of the agency.

No statement was made by Fiske as to the object of the investigation which was ordered by Acting Secretary of the Interior Finney.

Ambassador Is Ordered To Hold Out for Inclusion in Pact of "Safety Valve Clause."

FRENCH EXPECTING TO INCREASE OFFER

Premier Briand Admits That Government Has Abandoned Hope of Original Safeguard Clause.

BY HENRY WALES.

Paris, April 26.—Premier Aristide Briand and Finance Minister Raoul Peret appeared before the chamber of deputies finance committee this evening and made important statements concerning the Franco-American war debt negotiations now going on in Washington.

Premier Briand first stressed the fact that the hitherto published accounts of the proceedings at Washington have been exaggeratedly optimistic and warned the committee of the serious discrepancy that exists between Ambassador Henri Berenger's offer and the United States' demands regarding the grand total of the amount to be reimbursed and the size of the various annuities.

By this it is understood he refers to the $6,750,000 Ambassador Berenger offered as compared to the $7,500,000,000, the debt funding commission demands.

Bigger Initial Payments.

It also is admitted there is strong feeling that the initial payments will be larger than the $25,000,000 M. Berenger proposed—which includes $20,000,000 France already is paying as interest on the A. E. F. war stock purchase—and considerably less than $40,000,000 Joseph Caillaux offered.

The premier admitted that the government had abandoned hope of including the safeguard clause providing that France never will be expected to pay out more than it receives from its debtors, meaning the reparations from Germany.

Appearance of Premier Briand's appearance at the finance commission meeting, new instructions were sent to Ambassador Berenger tonight to hold out for the inclusion in the pact of a sort of transfer clause analogous to the Dawes plan, a feature based on the franc's position on the exchange as an index to the country's capacity to pay.

"Safety Valve Clause."

The idea of this "safety valve" clause, as Premier Briand terms it, is to be included in the chamber of deputies finance committee and was broached to the premier who agreed it was a capital idea. Now it is awaiting considerable enthusiasm.

It is regarded by the commission as being more desirable than the original safeguard clause since it links the interest of American and French taxpayers in seeing that the annuities are as large as possible, with their interest in the franc.

If accepted, the fall of the franc would mean decrease in annuities. This interest, since American and English capital is helping the franc in keeping its head up, it appears.

Regarding France's payments to the British war debt, the premier confirmed in part the promise that "Chancellor of the Exchequer Winston Churchill could count on receiving $20,000,000 from France during the coming year and could set this down in the revenue budget."

It is said that $10,000,000 will be paid to London between now and the end of the year and an additional 2,000,000 pounds sterling in the first trimester of 1927.

GEORGIA JUDICIAL BILL IS APPROVED

Washington, April 26.—(Special.) The bill drafted by Senator George for a new middle judicial district in Georgia was reported favorably Monday by the senate judiciary committee.

consideration of the bill in the senate. The measure as reported to the senate is different from the Larsen bill pending in the house in that it places the Valdosta division, the center of much contention, in the new middle district instead of the southern district as provided by the house bill.

Senate May Act First.
Whether Senators George and Harris will bring the senate bill up before the house acts on the Larsen measure has not been determined, though it had been thought before the delay arose in the house that the lower body would act first.

A new turn in the situation developed Monday when Representative Crisp announced that he will move to concur in the senate amendments when the bill comes up in the house for final action. This means that if the house passes the Larsen bill and the senate passes the George bill, the measure will return to the house with the Valdosta in the middle district. If the senate should act first, the bill would come to the house in that case with Valdosta in the middle district and Crisp's move in either case would be toward bringing about that disposition.

Representative Lankford has held out for placing Valdosta in the middle district, though other members of the house delegation agreed to have it in the southern district. Crisp's move so included finally in the Larsen bill when it was reported to the house several days ago.

It was said Monday that Crisp's move would be supported by all members of the house delegation, with the only exception possibly of Representative Wright, of Columbus, who has been outspoken in favor of placing the Valdosta division in the southern district. In the event the Valdosta division is included in the southern district Lankford probably would oppose it, so that either way it appears that a disagreement is inevitable.

ATLANTA HONORS SOUTHERN DEAD

Sam J. Slate, Ralph Smith and others, John M. Slaton, Jr., was marshal of the day, with the following assistants: Colonel E. D. A. Pierce, chief of staff; Colonel G. F. Baltzell, Major Trammell Scott, Captain E. R. E. Schmidt, Lieutenant James A. Bankston and Captain James Cooke, division chiefs; R. G. Stephens, C. R. Andrews, Jr., J. F. Morrison, R. C. Eve, S. P. Cronheim and H. T. Upshaw, aides.

In his address at Oakland cemetery an eloquent tribute to the valor of the hosts of the south who fought in the legions of Lee and Jackson, Governor Brandon gave credit to the heroic women of the Confederacy for a great part of the "brilliant record of unparalleled courage and achievement attained by the southern soldiers."

The speaker reviewed the handicaps under which the Confederacy labored and the "supreme and unswerving faith with which she faced tremendous odds" in the face of a foe which outnumbered her, held many advantages in point of equipment and was backed with all the resources of the hostile federal government. He spoke of the south's many victories on the battlefield and drew a picture of the hazard, spent forces who surrendered their cause with Lee at Appomattox.

Alluding to the survivors of the regiments of gray, the governor pledged anew their homeland's love and admiration for the angel soldiers, with an assurance to them that their deeds of valor "will never grow dim so long as mankind thrills to superhuman feats and great sacrifices."

The Ladies' Memorial association, which had charge of the Memorial day program, is offered by the following widely-known Atlanta women: Mrs. William A. Wright, president; Mrs. William F. Williams, first vice president; Mrs. Edgar S. Gay, Sr., second vice president; Mrs. Robert G. Stephens, third vice president; Mrs. A. M. D. Wilson, Jr., fourth vice president; Mrs. J. R. Mobley, recording secretary; Mrs. Fletcher J. Sprattling, treasurer; Mrs. Samuel W. Goode, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. John L. Harper, chairman of the cemetery committee.

Women in Charge.

These women were in charge of decorating graves of Confederate soldiers and had general charge of the annual big observance affair which was inaugurated in Georgia first and since has become to be observed annually each year in other southern states.

The parade organization consisted of the following units: Troops from the Twenty-second infantry, Fort McPherson, with their band; the One Hundred and Twenty-second infantry, Georgia national guard; hospital company No. 14; national guard and naval reserves, followed by a police platoon and band, under command of Chief E. L. Jett; senior cadets of R. O. T. C. units of Georgia Tech, Georgia Military academy and Marist college; Confederate veterans from seven chapters riding in automobiles furnished by private citizens; Spanish-American War veterans; Argonne Post No. 1, American Legion, Disabled Veterans of the World War; high school cadet corps from Tech High, Boys' High and Fulton High; Atlanta Junior High and grammar school pupils, and pupils from the North Avenue Presbyterian school, Woodberry Hall and University School for Boys.

Shortly after the parade ended at Oakland cemetery, members of the 122nd infantry, national guard, city officials and a score of prominent citizens were guests of a barbecue at the auditorium-armory.

DOUBLE-CROSSING LAID TO ATTORNEY

Johns testified, "and said 'here is what I got last night. Look at all that money—it is just raining money out of the heavens. Mr. Boyles, I am liable to go to the penitentiary for this.' Boyles then said, 'you keep the money; keep it and spend it; it is your money. I don't want to have anything to do with it.'"

"If Mr. Boyles did receive any of this money," Johns continued, "he certainly was double-crossing the bootleggers."

Substitutes in Liquor Case.

Questioned about "Bud Johnson," a negro who substituted as a liquor defendant for Joseph Groeschner, a white man, and who fined $150 which Groeschner paid, Johns said that Mr. Boyles had told him that the substitution had been permitted because the district attorney's information was that "the negro was a zesty person and because he always sought to get the guilty man."

Johns said that in September, 1924, at his request, R. L. Shivers, bureau of investigation agent, was sent to Mobile to "run down the persons we thought had been instrumental in fixing the jury in the so-called big conspiracy case."

Some time later Shivers warned him, Johns said, to "watch Frank Thompson and his dealings, even if he is a friend of yours."

Shivers explained, Johns continued, that Thompson had obtained from Dan Jamison and Gerónimo Perez, convicted bootleggers, money with which to pay Boyles' Coolidge association assessments.

Subsequently Thompson himself told Johns, he testified, that he had obtained the money for Boyles' assessment and had given it to him.

"A few weeks later Dan Jamison or Perez referred to this assessment," Johns said. "They said they had given Thompson money for Boyles' assessment. The assessment was $100, but Thompson collected $120, kept $20 and gave Boyles $100."

Put Out of Business.

Johns referred to an affidavit made by Thomas Cleveland, a convicted bootlegger, and said that Cleveland had told him that he had been shut out of the liquor business by the efforts of the attorney, and that he would not run in Mobile, no other bootlegger could run.

"Cleveland helped Boyles and W. J. Nesmith, then a prohibition officer for some weeks," Johns said. "Nesmith told me that Cleveland gave him $400 for use in rounding up the bootleggers and he gave it to J. A. Thomas, an under-cover agent sent to Mobile by the government, for use in rounding up the bootleggers."

Johns said that approximately 120 persons had been indicted by the grand jury on information obtained and furnished by French. Of these, he said, 12 or 13 pleaded guilty, four or five obtained dismissal on the ground of previous jeopardy, and the remainder also were dismissed.

The hearing will be continued tomorrow.

Attack on Boyles.
C. E. Hamilton, president of the Atlanta Bar association representing opponents to Boyles' reappointment, charged Boyles was guilty of perjury under the Alabama laws when he sold real estate despite two liens on the property.

A list of bootleggers from whom French said he had received money was introduced into the records.

Chairman Cummins asked in astonishment, "Is this a list of bootleggers and the amounts they gave?" When assured it was, he said, "you must have a lot of bootleggers in Mobile."

A day after the hearing was receiving half of everything that French collected was made in an affidavit by Thomas Cleveland, convicted bootlegger, now serving time in the Atlanta federal penitentiary, who swore French "came to me and asked me for help in getting money from bootleggers for Boyles' himself."

"He told me he would dismiss the indictments against me," the affidavit continued.

Cleveland said Boyles suggested he again enter the liquor business and he would give protection.

Of Crime Man Tells

Police He Committed

Canton, Ohio, April 26.—(P)—Cecil Porter, former Starke county resident has confessed he murdered Charles Richards here in November, 1923, according to word received by Sheriff C. W. Kirk, today from Macon, Ga. Reports fail to disclose any report of such a crime.

Porter, Macon authorities say, told them he shot Richards and threw the body into the Malbone river near Alliance.

Such Flavor

as this comes only in real Quaker Oats

THE price you pay for substitutes is the same as for the genuine Quaker Oats. The difference is in the flavor. And flavor, above all things, is important in oats.

That rich and tasty Quaker flavor is the result of some 50 years' milling experience. Once you taste it, you are spoiled for ordinary oats.

That is why millions demand the Quaker brand—why you should accept no other.

Quaker milling, too, retains much of the "bulk" of oats. And that makes laxatives less often needed. Protein, carbohydrates, and vitamins and "bulk" are thus combined to make Quaker Oats an excellently "balanced" food.

Get Quaker Oats today. Grocers have two kinds: Quick Quaker, which cooks in 3 to 5 minutes, and Quaker Oats.

HAUGEN, TINCER AGAIN IN DEBATE

Washington, April 26.—(P)—Differences among republican members of the agriculture committee smoldering for months within the committee room burst out on the floor of the house today when Chairman Haugen, of Iowa, and Representative Tincer, of Kansas, engaged in a brief but heated debate on farm relief.

Mr. Tincer, author of the farm credit plan sponsored by Secretary Jardine, discussed his measure but little, confining himself largely to an attack on the Haugen bill, which would appropriate $375,000,000 to stabilize agricultural prices. He called the Haugen proposal a government subsidy, payable June 1 to stock of record May 15. The previous payment had been 75 cents in December, 1924.

Mr. Haugen defended his bill, and asked whether the farmers' representatives could not come before a congressional committee without having their motives questioned. He contended his proposal was no more a subsidy than the Tincer bill, which would appropriate $100,000,000 for loans to farmers' cooperative associations.

The tilt was a preliminary to the general farm relief debate scheduled for late this week or early next week, after the agriculture committee places three bills before the house—the Haugen and Tincer bills and the Curtis-Aswell national commodity marketing measure.

Mr. Haugen amended his bill by including butter as a basic commodity, along with wheat, cotton, corn, cattle and swine.

New York, April 26.—(P)—Directors of the Superior Steel corporation today resumed dividends with a quarterly disbursement of 50 cents a share, payable June 1 to stock of record May 15. The previous payment had been 75 cents in December, 1924.

DALLAS WOMAN HEADS Y. W. C. A.

Millwaukee, Wis., April 26.—(P)—Selection of Mrs. John M. Hanna, of Dallas, Texas, as national president, and the refusal to limit the voting membership to those professing Jesus Christ as their savior, marked the session today of the biennial convention of the Young Women's Christian Associations of the United States of America.

The new president defeated Mrs. Harry Chamberlin, of Toledo, Ohio, in the election to select the successor of Mrs. Frederic M. Paist, Wayne, Pa., who declined to accept another term. Both the president-elect and the retiring head are members of the Presbyterian church. Mrs. Chamberlin is a Baptist.

Attempts to limit the electorate to members of the Protestant evangelical churches failed today when the convention refused with only 144 dissenting votes, to accept the substitute amendment that would have required voting members to profess Jesus Christ as their savior. The action Saturday requiring only a pledge from voting members "that they desire to enter the Christian fellowship of the association," therefore stands as an alternate plan for local associations.

Other officers elected are: Mrs. Charles W. Gilkey, Chicago, first vice president; Mrs. Edward Dunham, Trenton, N. J., second vice president; Mrs. Hazel Butterfield, Bearice, Neb., and Miss Elsie West, Summit, N. J., secretaries.

Dixie Portland Memorial School Is Highly Praised

While nationally-known educators from all sections of the country Monday participated in the dedication of the library of the Dixie Portland Memorial school at Richard City, Tenn., Dr. R. M. Eubanks, president of the Atlanta board of education, who has just returned from an inspection of the new plant, declared it is the most modern and up-to-the-minute plant in the entire south.

The building which cost approximately $500,000, and is constructed throughout of cement and concrete, was added to the educational system of the state of Tennessee as a testimonial of the gratitude and appreciation of the Dixie Portland Cement company for the services of 72 employees of the concern in the world war. It was given without cost to the state by stockholders of the company and is maintained from funds supplied through the same channel.

Monday's dedicatory program, which was confined to the library building alone, included addresses by Chas. F. D. Belden, of Boston, president of the American Library association; Dr. Louis R. Wilson, president of the Southeastern Library association, and librarian of the University of North Carolina; and Dr. William Warner Bishop, librarian of the University of Michigan.

Program Continues.
In exercises Wednesday in dedication of the entire school plant.

Who Is Your Skinny Friend, Ethel?

Tell him to take Cod Liver Oil for a couple of months and get enough good healthy flesh on his bones to look like a real man.

Tell him it's the only way to take those grave-like hollows from his cheeks and necks.

Tell him he won't have to swallow the nasty oil with the nauseating fishy taste because the McCoy Laboratories of New York, are now putting up Cod Liver Oil in sugar-coated tablet form.

Ask for McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets, Jacobs Pharmacy Co. and every druggist sells them—60 tablets—60 cents. Any man or woman can put on five pounds of healthy flesh in 30 days or your druggist is authorized to refund the purchase price.

One woman put on 15 pounds in six weeks. Children grow robust and strong—Feeble, old people feel younger in a few weeks.

Be sure and get McCoy's, the original and genuine and avoid imitations.—(adv.)

Colonel John R. McQuigg, national commander of the American Legion; Lieutenant Arthur C. Jones, commander of Marion post No. 62, department of Tennessee; Dr. H. A. Morgah, president of the University of Tennessee; and R. N. Chennault, director of the Dixie Portland Memorial school, will have prominent places on the program.

Declaring that the company, which conceived the idea of memorializing its employees by establishing a great educational institution, is performing a great service for the state of Tennessee and at the same time is serving the youth of the state, Dr. Eubanks lauded the Portland concern.

"I have seen many so-called model schools since I have been interested in the education of our youth, but this surpasses even my most fantastic dreams of what a school should be," Dr. Eubanks declared. "This is a wonderful and a very fine contribution of a worthy concern to the coming generations."

"Students who attend the school are not restricted in any way. In fact it is a public institution even though it is located only a short distance from the great Portland plant.

"Main features of the building? Well, they are all main features. The whole building is composed of new and novel ideas and yet is constructed to serve those who are to receive instruction there. A large auditorium, one end of which has motion picture booths and the other a stage, a cinema screen and the gymnasium floor is one of the attractions.

"The whole building is of fireproof concrete and cement, even the floors being of concrete. The only wood used in the building is in fixtures. Each desk is equipped with a swivel chair or seat. Showers and private lockers for both boys and girls, large gymnasiums, athletic courts and fields and everything to insure a healthy development of mind and body are included in the equipment.

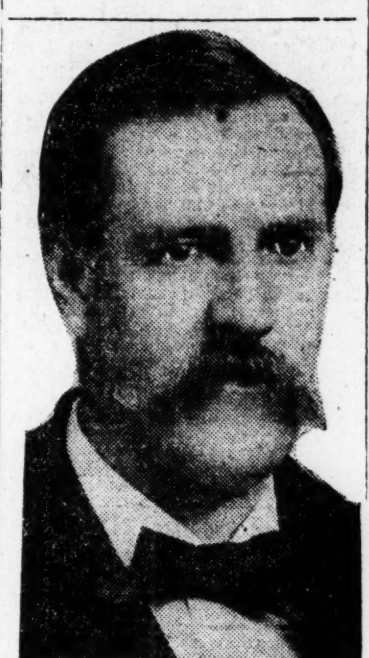

"I wish Atlanta had a hundred like it. Our boys and girls are entitled to the best and we ought to provide it. The structure is built to accommodate about 250 students from the first through the 11th grades, and the youngsters who get to matriculate in such a building are indeed fortunate.

"Every dime of the cost of building, maintaining and keeping the school going will be borne by Dixie Portland company. This is a splendid and wonderful memorial to employees of the company who served during the world war. It is a super memorial, since it is a lasting and fitting tribute to those who served and to those coming generations who will pay honor to the men who sacrificed in order to preserve this great country."

JUDGE T. H. TABOR TAKEN BY DEATH

Gainesville, Ga., April 26.—(Special.)—Judge T. H. Tabor, 71, of Ellijay, ordinary of Gilmer county for a number of years and long prominent in the political, religious and civic life of his community, died here today at the home of his son, Herbert Tabor, after an illness of three months.

JUDGE T. H. TABOR.

He was the son of Nathan T. and Jane Cumming Tabor and was born May 10, 1855, in Gilmer county, where he spent his entire life. He was married to Miss Laura C. Cox on January 1, 1882.

Prominent in religious affairs of his section, he was for many years a steward of the Ellijay Methodist church of which he was secretary at the time of his death. He was ordinary of Gilmer county for eight years, 1906 to 1914, declining an offer for reelection when his term expired.

Being intensely interested in educational matters, Judge Tabor was one of the founders and a consistent supporter of Ellijay institute, one of the leading high schools of north Georgia. A unique fact in connection with the family is that a copy of every edition of The Atlanta Constitution from its beginning in 1868 has gone into Judge Tabor's home or his father's home. For about 30 years he was its correspondent at Ellijay.

He is survived by his widow, one daughter, Mrs. J. H. Jackson, of Tignall, Ga.; two sons, Fred C. Tabor, of Safford, Ga., and Herbert Tabor, of Gainesville; seven grandchildren and one sister, Mrs. J. S. Hudson, of Ellijay.

Funeral services will be held at the Ellijay Methodist church at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, and interment will be in Ellijay cemetery.

NEW GYPSY QUEEN TO MOUNT THRONE REACHES AMERICA;

New York, April 26.—(AP)—A queen, attired in the colorful finery of a high-born gypsy woman, arrived on the Leviathan today to prepare for the coronation which will mark her place.

The queen is the bride of Frank Kaslov, king of the American gypsies, who set his bride in Marseilles, proposed in the American way and was married shortly afterward. She was Paras Kevi, daughter of one of the wealthiest families of Greek gypsies. She will live at the Philadelphia home of her husband, presiding occasionally with him at gypsy headquarters here in the Bowery.

A large crowd of subjects greeted the pair, as it marked the end of a successful quest for the proper queen since King Frank was widowed more than a year ago.

His search had spread abroad after it was found that among the 500 eligible gypsy girls in this country there was none of the proper blood.

A honeymoon on the Mediterranean preceded the return to the "throne."

GEORGIA EDITORS HAVE GOOD TIME IN HAVANA, CUBA

Havana, Cuba, April 26.—(AP)—The Georgia editors left yesterday for Matanzas on board a special train. They are to visit a sugar plantation there. Their itinerary calls for sailing back to the states tomorrow.

Sunday—a glorious day of sunshine, was spent automobile touring by the Georgia newspapermen. One of the places visited was the wonderful tropical garden owned by a brewery. Free beer and dancing featured their visit. Last night W. G. Sutlive, editor of the Savannah Press, delivered an address to the editors.

Tonight the editors will be entertained at dinner by Havana newspapermen.

Gordon Saussy, Savannah attorney, was heard Saturday night in an interesting address.

SAM JONES SLOAN HAS JOINED NAVY HIS FAMILY STATES

Cartersville, Ga., April 26.—(Special.)—Sam Jones Sloan, 20-year-old grandson of the late Sam P. Jones, noted evangelist, has joined the United States navy and reports that he is missing are incorrect, members of the Jones family stated here tonight.

Barney Sloan, father of the youth, states his son recently signified his intention of joining the navy; that the family has been in constant communication with him, and that reports that his son is being sought are without foundation.

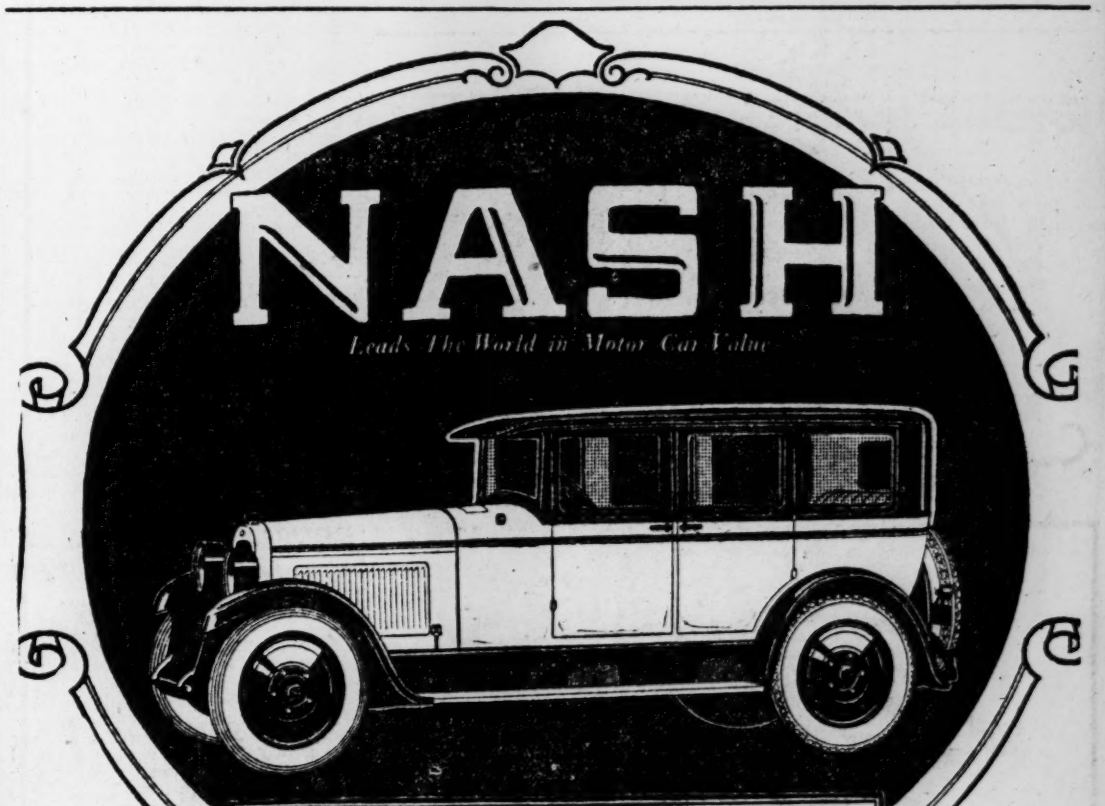

Looking ahead

THE SOUTH'S NEED for greater railroad service in the next few years is a problem which the management of the Southern Railway System must solve now. Planning years ahead is a prime requisite of adequate railroad service.

The heavy freight movement throughout the South has naturally increased our total revenues. We have been able to effect many economies in operation which have correspondingly increased our net income and permitted us to pay dividends to our stockholders.

But traffic in the South will continue to grow. We must continue to expand our facilities in order that our service may keep pace with the demands upon it. Good earnings will make it possible to attract additional capital as needed to make necessary improvements.

The business interests of the South have a definite interest in the prosperity of their largest railway system. Continued good earnings by the Southern will insure the continuation of adequate transportation service to the South.

OLIN E. SUTTLES DIES OF STROKE

Olin E. Suttles, 48, deputy tax collector of Fulton county for the past several years, a brother of H. B. Suttles, news correspondent of The Constitution at East Point, and a prominent citizen of Fulton county during his entire life, died suddenly at his country home near East Point, Monday morning at 10:30 o'clock, following a paralytic stroke earlier in the day.

I'll never forget that night!

WE WERE sailing along beautifully when we came upon a sign: "Road Closed." Took an unfamiliar road to the right. Then the fork—which way?

I struck match after match to read the sign, but the wind promptly blew them out. Guessed wrong and landed home three hours late.

The very next day I bought a wind-proof, rain-proof, long-range flashlight—a genuine Eveready! Detours don't worry me now.

church, near Ben Hill. Interment will be in the churchyard there. Pallbearers selected from the Fulton county tax collector's office will be: A. P. Stewart, T. B. Gibbs, J. E. Mays, C. D. Owens, J. B. Saunders and T. E. Suttles.

Although he has been in failing health for the last several months, Mr. Suttles' death came as a shock to members of his family and a wide circle of friends in the county and state. The stroke came upon him about 6 o'clock Monday morning and he lapsed into a state of coma, never to regain consciousness.

A native of Fulton county, Mr. Suttles received his early education in the rural school located near his home in Ben Hill and after several years of farm life he took up business life in Atlanta.

Mr. Suttles was a devout member of the Methodist church and a popular member of the Masonic lodge. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Gertrude Suttles, and four brothers, H. B. Suttles, of East Point; B. P. Suttles, of Ben Hill; A. O. Suttles, of Austin, Texas; W. L. Suttles, of Florence, Texas; and J. M. Suttles, of West Palm Beach, Fla.

W. C. STRADLEY DEAD AFTER CAR ACCIDENT

William C. Stradley, 31, engineer on the W. & A. railroad for several years, whose back was broken in an automobile accident near Gainesville last May when Clement Pope was killed instantly, died at 1 o'clock Monday afternoon at the home, 131 Niles avenue.

Mr. Stradley has been confined to his bed since the accident and his condition had grown gradually worse until his death Monday afternoon. He was one of the active leaders in fraternal orders and church work in the city and a member of the Masonic lodge, Knights of Pythias, Red Men, Junior Order, Odd Fellows and of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers. He was a devout member of the Presbyterian church and popular among a large circle of friends.

Funeral services for Mr. Stradley will be held Wednesday afternoon at the Northwest Baptist church. Interment will be in Hollywood cemetery. Mr. Stradley is survived by his widow, Mrs. Clifford Stradley; one son, W. W. Stradley; his mother, Mrs. W. G. Stradley, and four sisters, Mrs. T. L. Roper, of Jacksonville, Fla.; Mrs. J. T. Glozier and Misses Nell and Lucy Stradley. Barclay & Brandon are the funeral directors in charge.

SEX EVILS SHOWN IN "NAKED TRUTH" AT ATLANTA NOW

The sole purpose of "The Naked Truth," the sensational motion picture, which opened a week's run at the Atlanta theater Monday, is the education of the ignorant on matters of proper sex life. It is a well-produced film, the story being enacted by competent players of the screen, including Jack Muhl and Helene Chadwick as the leads, and numbering such well-known players as Pauline Curley, Eugene King and Kate Lester in their support.

This picture, however, was not made and is not recommended to be seen for its entertainment value. It is solely because of its educational value that it is sent out by the Public Welfare Pictures Corporation, of Chicago, and, viewed as such a picture, it ought to be productive of much good among that class of the public which will go to see it with serious intent.

The story of the picture is a simple affair, just sufficient to point the tremendous moral and to afford a medium by which the lessons desired may be taught. There is nothing in the picture which can be tittered over, and those who go expecting a tawdry sort of thrill will be disappointed.

At each showing of the film, a lecture, carefully prepared and adding much to the educational value of the picture, is given by Dr. L. A. Edwards, a hygiene authority from Chicago.

Owing to the subject which the picture treats, men and women are not admitted to the theater at the same time. All three performances given Monday were for women only and large crowds of that sex were present each time. For the balance of the week, it is announced, the daily matinees, starting at 2:30, will be for women only, while the two performances each night will be for men only. The night performances start at 7 and 9 o'clock, respectively, and run continuously.

Certain reels shown to the women audiences are not shown to the performances for men, others being substituted. This picture has never been shown here before and its visit at this time, with the purpose of aiding in the constant warfare against the suffering and death resultant from social evils, should be productive of good among all persons of sufficient character to take the lessons taught to heart.

Spence, of Albany, '18, were nominated to succeed Hutton Lovejoy, of LaGrange, for the three-year term on the board of managers.

THIEVES SUCCESSFUL ON SEVERAL "JOBS"

Walter S. McDonald, with office in the Hurt building, reported to police Monday the theft of a traveling bag from his office. The bag contained a pair of expensive opera glasses, two strings of pearl necklaces, one pearl bracelet, one beaded bag and other valuable jewelry, according to McDonald.

A green gold watch was stolen from the home of Mrs. R. G. Coleman, 255 Lake avenue, early Monday morning, police reports show.

Thieves entered the garage of A. Ludwig, 518 Stewart avenue, early Monday morning, according to police reports. Ludwig did not report anything missing from his place.

Negro Convict Takes Telephone Co. Car; Drives to Freedom

Police and detectives are searching for "Euster" Gaines, 26, negro convict of the Bellwood camp for convicts, who escaped Monday afternoon in a light touring car of the Southern Bell Telephone company, which had been parked on Tenth street.

The negro was serving a year's sentence for a misdemeanor charge and was working on Tenth street when he spied the light touring car on Tenth street. He ran to it, leaped in and escaped in broad daylight. Soon after the negro broke loose, police were notified that a convict was seen at a house on Butler street. When officers arrived only convict's clothes and shackles were found there.

WHITEMORE JURY UNABLE TO AGREE

Buffalo, N. Y., April 26.—(AP)—The jury considering the murder charge against Richard Reese Whitmore, New York, bandit leader, had been unable to reach a verdict at 11 o'clock tonight and was sent to a hotel for the night.
Whitmore was accused of the slaying of a bank guard here last October in a $33,000 robbery.
The jury filed out of the court room at 5:45 after hearing Justice Noonan's charge, which followed impassioned pleas by District Attorney Guy B. Moore and W. Bartlett Sumner, chief defense counsel, in their final arguments.
Mrs. Margaret Whitmore, wife of the defendant and his aged father were in court today.

JANE ADDAMS URGES WORLD DISARMAMENT

Washington, April 26.—(AP)—A plea for universal abolition of conscription and complete world disarmament was made to President Coolidge today by Miss Jane Addams, of Chicago, international president of the Women's International League of Peace and Freedom, and a delegation from that organization.
They urged that the American delegates to the preparatory amendment limitations conference at Geneva be instructed to work for the placing of their two subjects on the agenda of the full commission of the League of Nations armament conference.

Five of Mail Robbers' Gang Are Sent Here

Five members of the notorious Egan bandit gang said to have operated extensively in St. Louis and other western cities, Monday arrived at the Atlanta federal penitentiary where they will serve terms varying from about 25 to 35 years.

The men were transferred from the Leavenworth prison and were taken to the federal penitentiary by a train. They were given for the transfer.
All the Egan bandit men are under sentence of imprisonment for mail robbery in St. Louis. Their cases are still pending appeal. They began serving time and carried their appeals to the United States supreme court.
William T. Colbeck, alleged leader, is said to be very wealthy, having amassed a fortune in his illegal exploits, which have been exposed in a leading monthly magazine. They were tried and convicted and have served only a short time of their term, and the transfer to Atlanta has been made with utmost secrecy. Federal prison officials Monday night declined to discuss the matter other than to admit that the five had arrived.
Others of the gang, in addition to Colbeck, are Frank Hackenbach, Gustav Deimeyer, Leo P. Cronin and Dave Robinson.

Dodge Widow To Wed Again, Society Hears

(By Leased Wire to The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.)
New York, April 26.—Social circles in New York and Detroit were a bit excited today over a decidedly persistent report that Mrs. Horace Elgin Dodge, widow of the automobile manufacturer, is engaged to be married, or perhaps already is married, again.
The report named Hugh Dillman, who spent much time in Mrs. Dodge's company in Palm Beach, Fla., this past winter season, as her fiance, if indeed, not already her husband.
Mrs. Dodge, one of the wealthiest women in the world, at present maintains an apartment here at 277 Park avenue. But there today she was said to be out-of-town but was later reported seen leaving the apartment building.
Accompanied in her private car by Dillman, Mrs. Dodge only recently arrived in New York from Palm Beach where she purchased the palatial winter residence of Joshua S. Cosden, the oil multi-millionaire's furnishings and art treasures included. The purchase price was not made public but the estate is valued at more than $4,000,000.
Until Sunday when he suddenly departed "for the west," leaving no forwarding address, Dillman, who is handsome and about 45, was stopping with his sister at the Hotel Weylin here.
Mrs. Dodge sold her interests in Dodge Brothers, Inc., inherited from her husband, to New York bankers for $146,000,000 cash, some months ago. She is a grandmother.

Kentuckian Dies.
Washington, April 26.—(AP)—S. Blair Clay, of Lexington, Ky., a brother of Roger Clay, of the court of appeals of Kentucky, died suddenly in a restaurant here yesterday. Death was believed due to heart trouble. He was about 40 years old. Mr. Clay was in Washington on patent office business.

Minister Praises "Better Homes"

The Better Homes movement is not a commercial scheme. Its object is just what the name implies, to show people how they may have better homes without needless expense. It demonstrates how a house should be built for convenience and comfort, and builds one so that you may see it, and walk through it; it shows how it may be furnished economically and with a view to unity and beauty, giving also a budget of expense for every part which shall be in a proper ratio to the rest.

But there is a deeper and more significant thing about this movement and that is, while doing this it almost unconsciously brings about in the minds and hearts of the men and women who are to live here the idea of spiritual values also in connection with the home. For there is only one way to have a better home and that is by having a better spirit in it, with better people dwelling there. Love must be there, thoughtfulness of others, kindness, gentleness, truth—all these must dwell there. Character is what counts. Christ in the home will make it a better home, and no home is really complete without Him. He should be the welcome and constant friend abiding there.

J. W. CALDWELL,
President Evangelical Ministers' Association.

Home-Lovers Visit Exhibits In 'Better Homes' Campaign

Colonel B. L. Bugg, of the A. B. & A. railroad, will be principal speaker this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at Home No. 1, at 49 Brookridge drive, in the Better Homes week, in which Atlanta is cooperating with principal cities over the country. Colonel Bugg will speak on "The Y. W. C. A. Work for Girls."
This will be only part of the series of programs planned for today. The O'Keefe Junior High school orchestra will furnish the music. A program of home music will be given tonight by Miss Lois Latham.
In addition to these programs open house will be held at Better Home No. 3, the school practice apartments at Girls' High and Fulton High schools. Music will be furnished by the women's division of the Chamber of Commerce.

Monday was celebrated as "Fifth District Day" and all members of clubs in the district were invited to attend programs.

M. Rich Store Employees Ready for Great Pageant

Lovers of entertainment in Atlanta have a rare treat in store for them in the birthday pageant to be presented Friday night at the city auditorium by 200 employees of M. Rich & Brothers company, according to enthusiastic statements of those who have witnessed final rehearsals.
In the number of costumes, in the number of people taking part and in the high merit of the entire program, the spectacle is expected to rank with anything in the amusement line which has been offered here this year, although it is presented in its entirety by employees of the big department store.

Musical features of the entertainment are being directed by Signor Emilio Volpi, while the pageant is being staged by Miss Olive Jackson, of New York, an expert in the work. A big orchestra of 30 musicians will play the special musical score.
Atlanta's progress as well as the progress of the M. Rich & Brothers organization since 1867 will be depicted in the colorful pageant. Costumes are elaborate and striking and the effects are quaint and picturesque. The show moves as easily as a professional production and is expected to bring a pleasant surprise to those who witness it.

Admission to the pageant will be free and it is believed productions of this magnitude which have required as much time and expense to perfect are seldom offered the public free of any admission charge whatever. The show is presented in a spirit of good will to the people of Atlanta by employees of the Rich store, who initiated the movement to present the pageant and who have handled all the details of its preparation.

The show lasts about two hours and there are several scenes which are as brilliant and striking as those seen in big musical comedy productions. The Rich Glee club and the Rich Mandolin club will appear on the program as well as a group of attractive dancing girls.

"QUOTA" Quotations On Atlanta

When national concerns report record-breaking sales in the Atlanta territory, it's unbeatable evidence of growth and prosperity.

Sales managers have always been known as drivers and optimists in fixing sales quotas. Yet here are some quotations from business leaders:

- (1) "We should have been well satisfied if by January 1927 we had reached the mark we actually reached in 1925"—a New York corporation that established an Atlanta office last year.
- (2) "120% to 175% of our sales quota, in the territory served by Atlanta"—a dry battery concern.
- (3) "150% of our quota for 1925"—an automobile accessory company.
- (4) "115% of our quota"—an office supply house.

Needless to say, sound, active banking co-operation has played and will continue to play an important part in this splendid development.

Chemistry Instructor Taught Pupils How to Make Liquor

(By Leased Wire to The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.)
Benton, Ill., April 26.—The nearby village of Sesser, Ill., is involved in a "Scopes trial," which involves a high school teacher, a chemistry class and fermenting grain, which was about to enter into a new state of life known as "hard liquor."
The youthful teacher, R. F. Hannah, who sought to show the pupils how the iniquitous construct "moonshine" has been "bounced" by the Sesser High school board. The experiment of fermentation in his chemistry class was not for practical purposes, but merely to show chemical reaction resulting from grain, water and heat.
"You must resign or we will prosecute you for violation of the prohibition laws," members of the school board told Hannah, when they called a meeting of all male members of the high school faculty after the janitor, Franklin P. Scott, had directed attention to a small quantity of "moonshine" that had been left on the shelf in the chemistry classroom.
"I will not resign," Hannah replied, and in that reply he flung a challenge at the board which they have so far failed to act upon. True, they have employed another teacher to take the place of Hannah, but he has not resigned.

"I have nothing to deny, nor be ashamed of," Hannah said. "It is true that my class tried the fermentation experiment, but there was no unlawful motive in this."
Hannah came to Sesser this year from Galesburg where he graduated last year from Knox college. He was employed for the term to teach chemistry and general science to a class composed of four girls and fifteen boys.
"The study of alcohol in our chemistry text," he explained, "described the making of alcohol. The class attempted the experiment."
"Some of the boys asked if there would be any objections to them bringing some grain and trying the fermentation of fermentation with that and I told them there would be none on my part. The next morning one of the boys brought in a small quantity of wheat and it was placed in a couple of small jars and an old wash basin to ferment."

Poet and Inventor Jailed As Evanston Home Robber

Chicago, April 26.—(AP)—Vincent de Pascal, inventor, poet and advertising genius, has frequently extemporized in verse upon the premise that iron bars do not a prison make.
But tonight, for the second time in a year, iron bars stood quite conclusively between Mr. de Pascal and the cultural sphere in which he feels most at home.
He inhabited a cell in the Evanston police station and faced charges arising from a confession which police said he made admitting robbery of seventeen Evanston homes. The officers support their charges with exhibiting of $20,000 in negotiable bonds, a number of jeweled rings and other evidence which they declare were found in his hotel room after he had been captured in the Evanston home of George B. Williams, broker.
The first occasion on which prison bars restrained Mr. de Pascal from being himself was when as a prisoner in an Elmira, N. Y., reformatory in 1925 he won a world tour which was first prize in an advertising contest. He could not go because his prison term had not expired, but his revelation of genius won him an early parole.

In de Pascal's pocket the police found an article on "Things of today and yesterday," expressing the theory that the turtle-necked sweater and the "cat" were alien to the modern burglar, who when detected "remains cool and collected and talks his way to freedom." Unable to talk his way through a locked closet door or to interest his host in unlocking it, de Pascal presently found the police on their ground and the occasion apparently past for cool and collected discourse.

So when de Pascal took the party to his hotel where the officers showed casual interest in 150 pages of notes on "plans, ideas and literary efforts of Vincent de Pascal." They examined the designs for an automatic door opener, an electric pencil sharpener and an improved trolley fare box.

The Adopted Wife

By Amelie Rives
(Princess Troubadour)

INSTALLMENT LVI.
The Journey Begins.

The hat was of black velvet, something between a chapeau Henri VIII d'Angleterre and an idealized Tam o' Shanter. A real page du Moyen Age might have worn it.

Celia gazed at her reflection in the glass as at a stranger's. Her disguise seemed to her almost complete enough to do away with any need of the gray veil. In the meantime Monsieur Louis (after ordering a taxi through the speaking tube) was wrapping the three braids in sheets of white tissue paper and tying them with a white satin ribbon, handed him at random by Mme. Nattan. The parcel looked like a small wedding present thus done up. As the last bow was tied a small button in natter blue livery appeared at the door to say that the taxi had come.

Celia received her festal looking bundle from M. Louis, thanked him and Mme. Nattan warmly, and was hurrying after the boy, who had already departed with her satchel, when M. Louis checked her on the threshold just as Mr. Posser had done:

"Mais madame! Your hat. . . Where to shall we send your hat?" He was holding up the big black hat that Miss Bloome had said she would like to own. A droil impulse flashed through Celia.

"Send it to Miss Maxine Bloome at Floss and Chymes," said she, and vanished.

M. Louis transferred his gaze from the doorway through which she had disappeared to the face of Mme. Nattan, who was briskly gathering up her hats, aided by the fillette.

"Viola une personne bien étrange. . . mystifiante," he remarked, more to himself than to her.

But she replied promptly and volubly:

"N'est-ce pas, m'sieur? Au premier coup de oeil le me suis dit: Tiens! Viola une creature extraordinaire! . . . Et quand elle, sets leve pour sortir. . . O, la! Quel type! Avec sa taille Tour-Eiffel et son petit museau Chinois! Et quelle idee folle, Mon Dieu! de se couper les cheveux!"

She began to laugh, her plump chin quivering on the topmost hat of the pile, which she now embraced with both arms.

"On dirait un obelisque couronne d'une boule de flosselle!"

M. Louis did not join in her mirth.

"Elle a du charme, quand meme," he murmured, now quite to himself, as Mme. Nattan left the room, still giggling. Then added

"If it would only start!" she sighed.

musically, the point of his black beard between his first and second fingers.

"Bloomer? . . . ce n'est pas son vrai nom bien sur. . . Elle m'intrigue beaucoup cette femme la. . ."

When Celia reached the station she found that after all her hurry she had seven minutes to wait before the gates were opened. These seven minutes seemed longer to her than the whole day. She was in a fever of nervousness lest something might happen to stop her—lest she should be recognized in spite of the shrouding gray veil. . . lest Padraic had taken tickets for the wrong train. . .

She went through the gates, her heart bounding with relief. Then to the Pullman. . . Her ticket for that was correct also. . . A negro porter in a white linen jacket bent forward to take her satchel, and with the other hand assisted her to mount the steps.

As he threw open the door of the drawing room that Padraic had reserved for her, she drew back confused.

"Are you sure my ticket is for the drawing room, porter?"

"Yes, madam. Here it is, madam."

And he pointed out the direction on her Pullman ticket with a brown forefinger.

"Very well," she said, resigning herself, but her mood dropped suddenly.

She hadn't thought of being shut into a small compartment with Padraic. . . and for all night, too. . . The porter left her, closing the door behind him.

The weather was still cold, though the westering sun had now broken through the clouds, so the steam had been turned on. It was stiflingly hot in the little room. It seemed to her that most of her day had been spent in passing from one tiny overheated room to another. She pulled off the muffling veil and looked worriedly about her, too much disconcerted by this new turn of affairs to notice as yet the oppressive heat.

She did not like to share even a large room with any one—and in this boxlike place two people would be like animals in a zoo cage. . . Well, she would sit up all night. . . She could sleep very well sitting up, with some pillows to lean her head on.

All at once she felt as though suffocating. She threw the veil over her head again and opened the door. People were arriving in bunches now. The porter was very busy showing them to their seats and tucking away their bags and parcels into the smallest space. As he passed her on one of his bustling errands she asked him to open a window for her.

"Yes, ma'am. Just as soon as we're through the tunnel, ma'am," he assured her, hurrying off again.

"It will be better when the train is moving," she told herself, and she longed vehemently for it to start, not only that she might have more air but that she craved the sense of quick motion, the feeling that she was really on her way, that the past was actually receding with each turn of the iron wheels beneath her. . . early morning had crept over her again. In this motionless, plush-lined box she felt more like a prisoner than a free adventurer on her way to boundless horizons and joyous wanderings.

"If it would only start!" she sighed.

Giddingly, almost imperceptibly, it began to move, then faster. . . faster. . . faster. . . At last it rushed out of the close gloom into the windy, changeable light of the late May afternoon. The porter returned, and, banging up a reluctant sash, jammed under it a wire cinder screen.

Through the screen buffets of air began to toss her short hair about her face. . . At first it was delicious. . . then a little cold. . . then much too cold.

She put on again her coat, which she had taken off, then her fur. Still she felt chilly. The very thing! Her new, gray ulster. . . She got it out, and buttoning it about her, turned up the collar over her ears. Now she was perfectly comfortable. . . No; her hat bothered her, slipping about on her smooth hair. She took it off, tucked the suede bag behind her head for a pillow, put her feet up on the opposite seat. Her pale, gray buckled shoes and thin silk stockings were out of keeping with the suit she had just bought. But she could never get ready made shoes to fit her long, slim feet with their low insteps, like a red Indian's. . . Never mind. . . She could order some in Canada. English boots were always best for walking. . . The Catalonian Pyrenees. . . that was where they were going to wander first. . . His mother's birthland. . . Did Padraic look like her or like his father? The rippling black hair perhaps was like hers, but the blue, fiery eyes were surely Irish. . . Hers must have been dark and soft under proudly drooping lids. . . A Goya lady with mantilla and fan floated before her. . . Then the mantilla faded away, the black hair under it became like a black velvet cap, the dark eyes changed to Hilary's. . . they were looking at her very kindly, rather reproachfully, but kindly. . .

Peachtree Garden Club Plans Tulip Show Tuesday Afternoon

Social interest for Tuesday centers in the tulip show sponsored by the Peachtree Garden club at the Piedmont Driving club this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Mrs. William H. Kiser is chairman of arrangements. The flower show has not been planned for a favored few, for invitations are extended to friends of the members of the club, and there will be no admission charged to see the exhibition. The purpose of the tulip show is to foster interest in and the cultivation of flowers, and those attending the show will carry to their homes the cheery spirit of the blossoms on exhibition. The band of women composing the Peachtree Garden club desire to inspire, through the medium of flower shows, to impress upon Atlantans the importance of cherishing influence of flowers.

List of Entries.—The list of entries includes Class 1, best single specimen in the following species: Darwin, Breeders, Cottage, Parrots, Rembrandt, etc. Length of stem counts 25 points, size of bloom 25 points, color 25, carriage of bloom 25. Container for above furnished by club.

Class 2—Collection of tulips with one, two or three of each variety. Length of stem 15, quality of bloom 15, carriage of bloom 15, distinction of color 15, number of varieties 40 points. Container for above furnished by club.

Class 3—Display of one variety of tulip not less than six blooms or more than one dozen. Length of stem 20, quality of bloom 20, distinction of color 20, fineness of variety 20, attractiveness of display 20. Receptacle for above to be furnished by exhibitor.

Class 4—Arrangement of tulips alone or with any other flower or foliage. Distinction counts 20 points, color harmony 20, proportion 20, relation to receptacle, perfection of arrangement 20. Receptacle to be furnished by exhibitor.

The exhibits must be entered by 11 o'clock, and be plainly marked with name of variety and class to which it belongs.

Brides-Elect Honored.

A trio of lovely brides-elect of this week will be the center of social attention at the affairs featuring today's calendar. Miss Valeria Manley and her fiancé, Hunter Pope Cooper, will be honored guests at the buffet supper at which Mr. and Mrs. Rankin Manley will entertain following the wedding rehearsal. Mrs. C. Heywood Dudley will give a buffet supper in compliment to Miss Moma Dudley following the rehearsal of her wedding to Lieutenant Jesse Traywick. Miss Katherine Haverly will be honor guest at Miss Margaret Nelson's luncheon at the Piedmont Driving club.

Another charming bride-elect of early May, Miss Juliet Crenshaw, is among the honor guests of the day. Miss Eva Moore will compliment her with a bridge-ten. A number of interesting social affairs have been planned for the delegates and their wives who are attending the Orthopedic convention in session in the city, among which are the luncheon to be given today by Mrs. Lawson Thornton and a brilliant dinner party this evening at the Piedmont Driving club.

Among the visitors who remained in town after opera and are central figures today are Mrs. Ralph Davidson, of Canada, and Mrs. Richard Wilmer, of Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. Jackson Given Lovely Dinner.

One of the loveliest affairs of Monday evening was the beautifully appointed dinner at which Mr. and Mrs. William Howell Kiser were hosts on Monday evening at their home on

Manley-Cooper Wedding Party Honored at Affairs

One of the outstanding social affairs of the early part of the week was the beautiful dinner at which Marion Kiser was host Monday evening at the Piedmont Driving club, given as a compliment to Miss Valeria Manley, whose marriage to Hunter Cooper will be an event of Wednesday, April 28.

The guests included Miss Manley, Mr. Cooper, Miss Callie Orme, Miss Elizabeth Boykin, of Knoxville, Tenn.; Miss Doughty Manley, Mr. and Mrs. Manley, Mr. and Mrs. J. N. McEachern, Jr., Miss Maria Brown, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. McCullough, Jr., Baxter Maddox, John O. Childs, Norris Broyles, Comer Howell and Mr. Kiser.

Mrs. McEachern's Luncheon.—Miss Manley was central figure at a seated luncheon Monday at 6 o'clock, given by Mrs. J. N. McEachern, Sr., at her home on Ponce de Leon avenue.

Spring flowers were used in the decorations. Mrs. McEachern was assisted in the entertaining by her daughters, Miss Christine McEachern and Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Richard Sawtell, Mrs. John Newton McEachern, Mrs. Elwyn Tomlinson, Mrs. Bagley Wright, of Marietta; Mrs. Rankin Manley, Mrs. J. N. McEachern, Jr., Mr. W. D. Manley.

Miss Brown's Supper.—Miss Manley and Hunter Cooper were honored by Miss Maria Brown Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock at a buffet supper at her home on Seventeenth street.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Ten Eyck Brown, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Manley, Miss Frances Brown and Mrs. H. B. Whitmore assisted the hostess in entertaining. The guests included Miss Valeria Manley, Miss Callie Orme, Miss Elizabeth Boykin, of Chattanooga; Miss Doughty Manley, Miss Maria Brown, Mrs. Rankin Manley, Mrs. J. N. McEachern, Jr., Mr. W. D. Manley.

Miss Long Wins Temperance Medal.—The winner of the grand gold medal given by the Woman's Christian Temperance union Friday evening at the Hapeville Methodist church was Miss Elizabeth Long, her subject being "In the Keys."

Piano solos were given by Miss Nellie Ruth Hardigree and Mrs. Wagner. The medal was presented by Mrs. Katie Lee Reeves, state superintendent of medal contests. The judges were Miss Clara Meadows, Mrs. S. A. F. Wagner, Miss Frances Meadows, Miss Elsie Mole, a former grand gold medal winner, gave a reading.

Miss Harriet Noyes Honors Miss Rose Jones.—Miss Rose Barry Jones, whose marriage will be an event of May, was honored by Miss Harriet Noyes at a bridge-ten Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock at her home on Ponce de Leon avenue.

Mrs. A. F. Noyes assisted her daughter in entertaining. The guests included Miss Jones, Miss Marion Hull, Miss Evelyn Vaughn, Miss Mary Fuller, Miss Ella May McWhorter, Miss Lynette Smith, Miss Lillian Kennedy, Miss Margaret Campbell, of Wilmington, N. C.; Miss Jessie Collier, of Barnesville; Mrs. George Lester, Mrs. William Court, of New York; Mrs. J. P. Jervis, Mrs. F. H. Jones, Sr., Mrs. F. H. Jones, Jr., Mrs. Campbell, of Wilmington, and Mrs. Joseph Schroeder, of Chicago.

Miss Tower Weds Robert Hawkins.—Americus, Ga., April 26.—A wedding of statewide interest solemnized Wednesday, April 21, in Americus, was that of Miss Sarah Pope Tower and Robert T. Hawkins, which took place at the home of the bride on West church street at half past 8 in the evening. Rev. John M. Outler, pastor of the First Methodist church, and a close friend of both bride and groom, performed the beautifully simple ceremony. Preceding the ceremony "I Come to Thee" was sweetly rendered by Mrs. Olin Dixon, accompanied by Mrs. H. O. Jones, and for the processional Mrs. Jones rendered Mendelssohn's Wedding March. "My Heart at Thy Sweet Voice" was softly played during the marriage ceremony.

The marriage of Miss Tower and Mr. Hawkins unites two of the most socially prominent families in this section of Georgia as well as in Atlanta. Mrs. Hawkins is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Levi S. Tower, of Americus, and before her marriage was during a number of years society editor of The Americus Times-Recorder, being a young woman of rare journalistic talent and a writer of note. Mr. Hawkins, who is ordinary of Sumter county, and for many years a practicing attorney at the bar here, is a son of the late Colonel Eugene A. Hawkins and Mrs. Mary McCleskey Hawkins. He is a brother of Mrs. W. E. Hawkins, of Atlanta.

Better Homes Committee Increases in Number.—Proud of the award of first national prize for Better Homes week in 1925, the Atlanta committee this year has increased its scope till forty chairmen and advisory board members are necessary to carry on the huge project that is intended to bring to this city the latest methods of home making and to inculcate in our citizens, particularly those of school age, a love of home that will prove a bulwark of strength to them.

Demonstration of home making, which is also part of the committee's program, have as director at Home No. 1 Miss Clara Le Cone, supervisor home economics, Atlanta schools, and at Home No. 2 Miss Lela Bunch, of Fulton County High school. At Spelman, where better homes demonstrations are given all the week for negroes, Mildred Pratt is in charge.

The Better Homes, No. 1, at 49 Brookridge drive, Boulevard Park, and No. 2, corner Fair and Kelley streets, just back of Fair Stree school, are being visited by big crowds this week who pronounce this Atlanta's most successful Better Homes in America demonstration. They are open from 2:30 in the afternoon until 10 o'clock at night. Home No. 1 is reached by turning at the right from the Boulevard Park end of the car line, and Home No. 2 is on Fair street car line, Fair street to Grant Park and Decatur line. Signs at the nearest street corners show the way.

Here's that "Something Different" you crave in a cereal—Puffed Rice

WHEN the family is hard to please, and "nothing tastes good"—give them something different. A change is what they want. Everybody tires of the same thing over and over.

Try Puffed Rice, it's wholly and totally different from any other cereal that comes to your table—food that's "good" for you that you don't eat for that reason, but because you love it.

Try Puffed Rice; it's steam puffed 8 times its natural size; then richly oven roasted. Rich in flavor, it tastes like toasted nuts, crunches in the mouth like fresh toast; cereal food with the enticement of a confection.

You'll find it so different, so delicious and attractive that you'll want to serve it every day. Thousands will tell you this. Obtain today at any grocery store. Comes ready to serve—no cooking.

Quaker Puffed Rice

What makes jelly jell?

Fruits contain, in varying amounts, both sugar and a certain jellifying substance, but no fruit contains enough of either to jelly all of its juice.

That is why you used to have to "boil your fruit down," or concentrate it, until it had lost a large amount of its juice—and unfortunately much of its fine fresh flavor and beautiful color as well.

But now you can add jellifying substances as readily as you add sugar to your fruit. For Certo is the jellifying element of fruit—refined and bottled for your convenient use. With Certo only one or two minutes' boiling is enough to give a perfect, tender jelly. You cannot have a failure, and your jelly retains the delicate, luscious flavor of the fresh fruit and its bright, natural color.

Your grocer has Certo. A book of simple, tested recipes for all sorts of delicious jellies and jams comes with each bottle—(adv.)

Mrs. Price-Smith Nominated As Woman's Club President

Mrs. W. B. Price-Smith was nominated for president of the Atlanta Woman's club at the regular meeting Monday afternoon.

Associate officers nominated were Mrs. John R. Hornady, first vice president; Mrs. Delos Hill, second vice president; Mrs. E. V. Carter, recording secretary; Mrs. J. A. Carlisle, assistant recording secretary; Mrs. D. F. Stevenson, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Eva Corrigan, treasurer; Mrs. W. D. Williams, assistant treasurer; Mrs. Joel Hunter, auditor. Mrs. Tom Brooke made the report of the nominating committee, which was unanimously accepted.

A beautiful memorial hour was observed by the club, with Mrs. J. M. Manley as leader. Mrs. D. F. Stevenson made a brief talk in memory of the departed club members and Mrs. Mary Griffith Dobbis directed a very beautiful musical program, presenting Mrs. Lamar Walker, of Griffin, Ga., in the following vocal selections, "The Lord Is My Light," by Spinks and "Look Down Dear Lord," by Fisher. Mrs. Olivia Allen was at the piano.

Mrs. Norman Sharp, president of the club, presided and introduced John R. Hornady, the speaker of the afternoon, who addressed the club on "Kennesaw Mountain as a National Memorial." Mr. Hornady said: "The full realization of the spirit of national unity, so vividly portrayed by the eloquent Henry Grady, has come about during the past few years." In confirmation of the statement that the vision of Grady has been realized, Mr. Hornady pointed to the beautiful unanimity with which the congress of the United States responded to the request for the Stone Mountain memorial coin, and also to the action of the Grand Army of the Republic, of Massachusetts, in erecting a bronze tablet to the soldiers of the Confederacy.

"This same fine spirit is in evidence in the movement to convert beautiful Kennesaw mountain into a great national memorial," said Mr. Hornady, "a memorial that will not only be a lasting tribute to the thousands of brave men whose lives were sacrificed around the mountain, but a mighty symbol of the unity which now exists among all our people." The passage of the initial bill looking toward the creation of Kennesaw

Miss Eleanor Ross Honors Sorority.

Miss Eleanor Ross, of Woodberry Hall, entertained her sorority, the Delta Phi Delta, at a matinee party at the Howard theater Friday. The active members are Miss Virginia Boyer, Miss Betty Brannon, Miss Susan Livingston, Miss Margaret Ledbetter, Miss Carolyn Dodge, Miss Mary Louise Wilcox, Miss Eileen McKinney, Miss Alberta Lee, Miss Eleanor Ross.

memorial, within four weeks after its first introduction by Senator Harris, and the unanimity and enthusiasm with which it was adopted, was cited as evidence of the high favor in which the project is held. "It is looked upon," said the speaker, "with earnest approval by all the great leaders in Washington, and a similar sentiment is reflected throughout the country. What will be done in the development of the memorial will depend upon the commission which is provided under the act of Senator Harris, and upon the action of congress on the recommendation of the commission, but there seems no doubt that the spiral highway which now leads to the peak of the mountain will be converted into a magnificent memorial boulevard and that some fitting memorial structure will be placed upon top of the mountain."

New Members.—Mrs. W. B. Price-Smith, chairman of membership, reported the following new members accepted into the club: Mrs. Frank B. Pond, Mrs. Hugh L. Hodgson, Mrs. I. W. Williams, and Mrs. Paul Yop.

Mrs. Norman Sharp announced the opening of the swimming pool on the club grounds early in May and told the members who were the contributors to the new summer lodge in Arundale Estates.

Mrs. Sharp also presented Mrs. J. A. Carlisle, chairman of home economics, who introduced Miss Clara Lee Cone, director of home economics in Girls' High school. Miss Cone, with the assistance of Miss Alba Creighton and Miss Bernice Rivers, presented an entertaining skit, by the students of the school. Miss Dorothy Coleman, senior in high school, wrote the playlet, which was entitled "Late Luncheon," and the young ladies presented it with grace and charm.

Kill Kare Klub Gives Weiner Roast.

The Kill Kare klub, with a number of children, spent an enjoyable afternoon Tuesday roasting wieners in Candler park.

The party included Mrs. W. C. Chambers, Mrs. G. E. Giles, Mrs. R. L. Odom, Mrs. R. A. Aldredge, Mrs. J. E. Biggs, Mrs. L. H. Sprattling, Mrs. J. G. Carroll, Mrs. S. J. Rayfield, Mrs. J. W. Farley, Misses Mary Frances Carroll, Martha Grace Sprattling, Barbara Farley, Marjorie Biggs, Laura Belle Carroll, Lucia Gray, Masters Jacob Rayfield, B. A. and William Aldredge, Jack Farley, Billy Chambers, James Thomas Giles, LaMar Odom and Robert Carroll.

Institute Club To Meet Wednesday.—The Woman's Institute Club of Domestic Arts will meet Wednesday at 10 o'clock at M. Rich & Bros.' conference room. The subject for discussion is millinery.

Mrs. Matthews Will Honor Bridge Club.—Mrs. L. O. Matthews, wife of Colonel Matthews, will entertain a group of prominent army matrons who make up the membership of the Friday Morning Bridge club, this week at her quarters at Fort McPherson.

Miss Nan Allen Will Take Part In 'Magnolia Lady'

Miss Nan Allen, of Buford, May queen of last year's festival at Washington seminary, will take part in the musical comedy, "The Magnolia Lady," to be presented by the students at Gardner school on Friday, May 7, in the main ballroom of the Plaza hotel in New York.

A pickaninny chorus, southern melodies and specialty dance numbers will enliven the production, which will be given for the benefit of the college scholarship fund.

Through the courtesy of the late Henry Miller and the authors, permission has been granted to produce the play with an amateur cast, composed of the pupils.

Miss Allen is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Allen, of Buford, and she has often visited Atlanta as the popular guest of Misses Jane and Betty Davison.

Bowery Ball at Druid Hills Club Assembles College Set

Initiating the week's gaieties for the college set was the Bowery ball at the Druid Hills Golf Club Monday evening given by the members of the Pi Kappa Phi fraternity of Georgia Tech. Judicious costumes, typical of the Bowery section of New York, added much merriment to the occasion, as well as the unique decorations. The ballroom was transformed to represent a dancing hall of a Bowery section restaurant with bare-topped tables placed around the edge of the room. Kerosene lamps burned in the center of each table, while candles were burning at intervals on the mantels and in the windows. Posters, suggestive of the occasion, adorned the side walls which furnished amusement for the guests. At 11 o'clock supper was served, the menu consisting of wieners, sauerkraut, pretzels, potato salad and red lemonade. The "no-break" cards were in the shape of boxing gloves, and the first dances of the evening were called out in rounds, ending with the "knockout" dance. The young guests arrived at the club in horse-drawn hacks, this mode of transportation causing much amusement. The chaperons invited for this affair were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Raine, Mr. and Mrs. B. Eckford, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Dunn and Dr. and Mrs. Vernon Skiles.

Women's Peace-of-Mind

under trying hygienic conditions is assured this new way. Gives absolute protection—discards like tissue

A DANCE, a sheer gown to be worn; a difficult hygienic situation. You need no longer give this complication a second thought. The hazards of the old-time sanitary pad have been supplanted with a protection both absolute and exquisite. It is called "KOTEX" . . . five times as absorbent as ordinary cotton pads.

Absorbs and deodorizes at the same time. Thus ending ALL fear of offending.

✓ You discard it as easily as a piece of tissue. No laundry. No embarrassment.

You get it for a few cents at any drug or department store simply by saying "KOTEX." Women ask for it without hesitancy.

Try Kotex. Comes 12 in a package. Proves old ways an unnecessary risk.

FEELING LOTS BETTER NOW

Writes Ethel May Snider Who Used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Hartford City, Ind.—Doing housework and taking care of a sick to be too much for Ethel May Snider, R. R. 1 of Hartford City, until she started taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Overwork had so undermined her health that she had to give up all outside work, and when she saw this medicine advertised in the "Star" and other papers, she went to a druggist and got a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. She took it regularly, was greatly benefited and now feels very much better.

Ethel May Snider's experience is similar to that of thousands of other women in all walks of life, who have sent testimonials to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Company of Lynn, Mass.

From Maine to California, from Wisconsin to Texas, and from Nebraska to Florida letters are received every day from grateful women who say the Vegetable Compound has helped to restore their health.

Mrs. Hirsch is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack H. Hirsch, former Atlanta and a grandson of the late Joseph Hirsch, at one time superintendent of schools in Atlanta and one of the founders of the Grady hospital; also a member of the city council.

Mr. and Mrs. Hirsch's arrival in Atlanta will be the occasion of many social courtesies and they will be cordially welcomed by their many friends in the city.

Miss Nell Lee Weds Mr. Green In Tampa, Fla.

Tampa, Fla., April 26.—Miss Nell Lee, reigning queen of Ye Mystic Krewe of Gasparilla, and Winton Wallace Green, were married Saturday evening in St. Andrews Episcopal church.

John Philip Shaddick was in charge of the nuptial music, assisted by Mrs. Albert Glover Kyle, organist at St. Andrews church, Mrs. Eugenia Park was the soprano soloist, and Mrs. Elizabeth Hodgson, the violinist. Rev. Willis G. Clark, rector of the church, performed the ceremony.

Mrs. Henry Thomas, sister of the bride, was matron of honor, and Miss Nancy Boston, of Marietta, was the maid of honor. The bridesmaids and matrons were Miss Lucy Elizabeth Harper, of Atlanta; Miss Christine Mills, Miss Sarah Honaker, Miss Joseph LeFils, and Miss Genelle Green, sister of the groom.

Little Misses Marion Claire Lee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Lee, and Gloria Johnston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Johnston, were the flower girls. They were carrying little frocks of yellow georgette made similar to those worn by the maids and matrons and wore wreaths of daisies in their hair, and carried baskets of these same flowers.

Mr. Green had his brother, Howard F. Green, as the best man, and the groomsmen were: Ferdinand Carson, Carroll Green, brother of the groom; Harold Watson, of Clio, S. C.; Irving Davis, of Wilmington, N. C.; David C. Smeleire, Jr., of Wilmington, N. C.; and Mortimer O. Dantzer, Jr., of Orangeburg, S. C.

The ushers were: Wiley Rose, Joseph LeFils, Troy C. Preston and W. E. Lee, brother of the bride.

The beautiful bride was given in marriage by her brother, L. W. Lee. Mr. and Mrs. Green left during the evening for New York and points in Canada. They will also visit the ancestral home of the Lee family in Virginia. Upon their return from their wedding trip, about May 12, Mr. and Mrs. Green will occupy their new home at 2128 Morrison avenue.

Visitors Honored At Lovely Tea.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Watson, of Miami, and Atlanta, and Mr. and Mrs. William Jeter were honored by Mr. and Mrs. C. K. Ayer informally Sunday afternoon at tea at their country place, "Ayrshire Hills," on the Chattahoochee.

Mrs. William Jeter, a recent bride, was presented an attractive flower vase.

Assisting Mr. and Mrs. Ayer were Mr. and Mrs. L. D. White, Mrs. Guy Norman, Mrs. Chilion White, Miss Virginia White and Miss Nancy Frederick.

The out-of-town guests included Mrs. Charles Godfrey, of Toronto, Can.; Mrs. Harry White, of Tampa, Fla.; Mrs. Kenneth Keys, of Miami; Mrs. Werney, of New York; Miss Tassman, of New Jersey. Other guests included Mrs. C. B. Wellburn, Dr. and Mrs. High Moore and Dr. and Mrs. C. P. Wilcox.

The Potter-Spiker School of Dancing will appear in a novel program at the Atlanta Woman's club Wednesday afternoon, April 28, at 3:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Potter-Spiker in this unique presentation will be assisted by two of her teachers, Miss Robert Jester Harbour and Miss Sarah Sharp, and Mrs. Pierpont Spiker, musical director of the school. The program will include all aspects from the school from the first demonstration of the technique of the dance from the first lesson, "Relaxation," to the finished dance. This sort of recital will be quite an innovation as it marks the first time Mrs. Potter-Spiker has presented her school in a technical demonstration as part of a classical program of the finished dance.

Mrs. Pierpont Spiker, who has made special piano arrangements of music, will be the accompanist. The recital is free.

Follow Nature's Rule

If gaining natural skin beauty is your aim

By NORMA TALMADGE

Copyright, 1928, by P. O. Beauty Feature

Foremost skin specialists urge this simple rule in skin care. Follow it for one week—note the improvement that comes

BECAUSE all the world seeks natural skin loveliness today, natural ways in skin care now have supplanted the artificial ways of yesterday.

Thousands of the pretty complexions you see and envy are due to the simple rule in skin care given here. It has brought clear complexions to more women than any other method known.

For your own sake, try it, if only for a week—just 10c for a cake of soothing Palmolive, used in this way:

THE RULE... AND HOW TO FOLLOW FOR BEST RESULTS

Wash your face gently with Palmolive Soap, massaging it softly into the skin. Rinse thoroughly, first with warm water, then with cold. If your skin is inclined to be dry, apply a touch of good cold cream—that is all.

Do this regularly, and particularly in the evening. Use powder and rouge if you wish. But never leave them on over night. They clog the pores, often enlarge them. Blackheads and disfigurements often follow. They must be washed away. Follow these rules day in and day out. Your skin will be soft and lovely—naturally colorful and clear.

BE SURE YOU GET THE REAL PALMOLIVE

Do not use ordinary soaps in the treatment given above. Do not think any green soap, or represented as of palm and olive oils, is the same as Palmolive.

Remember that before Palmolive came, women were told, "use no soap on your faces." Soaps then were judged too harsh. Palmolive is a beauty soap made for one purpose only: to safeguard your complexion. 60 years of soap study stand behind it. Millions of pretty skins prove its effectiveness beyond all doubt.

It costs but 10c the cake!—so little that millions let it do for their bodies what it does for their faces. Obtain Palmolive today. Note what one week of its use brings you. The Palmolive Company (Del. Corp.), Chicago, Illinois.

IRREGULAR EATING CAUSED INDIGESTION

"My experience in the World War left me with an awfully bad case of nervous indigestion," says Mr. William M. Sanders, who lives on Cherokee Avenue Extension, Gaffney, S. C.

"I was treated for this for several months but could get no relief. I tried many things but nothing helped me. I suffered with bad spells of vomiting and at times had severe gas pains in my stomach. I grew worse and worse. I was thin and poor. I was extremely nervous. I could not bear for any one to speak to me. Pains would start through my body. I was in a generally bad condition. I thought this was caused from irregular eating during the war.

"One day I decided to try Thedford's Black-Draught, because what I read of it sounded reliable. I got a package of the medicine and began to take it regularly. It was not long before I began to notice a decided improvement. The bad gas pains soon ceased, the vomiting stopped, and I was decidedly less nervous. I kept the medicine up because I was so pleased with my improvement.

"We have not been without Black-Draught in our house for over three years. It has a regular place in our medicine cabinet. I weigh now more than I have ever weighed in my life and am in good health. When I have a little spell of indigestion or constipation now, I take a small dose of Thedford's Black-Draught before and after breakfast and in less than no time I'm all right. I would not be without it in my home for anything.

"My wife thinks as much of Black-Draught as I do. It has done her worlds of good."

Black-Draught is sold everywhere; price 25 cents a package. JA-28.

New York, April 26.—(AP)—Improved weather conditions in the south and better private acreage figures were reflected in declines in the cotton market today. July contracts sold off to 18.05 or 13 points net lower and within 10 points of the lowest price reached on the decline of a week ago last Saturday. They closed at the lowest, the general market closing barely steady at net declines of 13 to 24 points.

The opening was barely steady at a decline of 4 to 8 points on reports indicating that weather conditions over Sunday had been more favorable than expected and prospects for rising temperatures. Early liquidation of May was well absorbed by covering and by buying against sales of July at a difference of 47 to 48 points, and there seemed to be considerable demand on the basis of 17.15 for October.

This held the decline in check during midday, but no buying power of consequence developed and the market sold off to 18.51 for May in late trading. Later deliveries also eased off to the low levels of the morning and last prices were within a point or two of the lowest, with the market evidently hopeful of more favorable weather for planting the new crop.

Two private reports on crop preparations were published at the opening, one pointing to a decrease of 2.3 per cent, while the other indicated a decrease of only 1 per cent in acreage. These figures were considered more in line with bearish than with bullish ideas of the outlook and probably promoted selling on the better weather news. The latter was the chief factor on the decline, but bearish sentiment may have found encouragement in continued talk of southern mill curtailment.

Tomorrow will be the first May notice day here. Few, if any, options are expected, but there was considerable May liquidation during the day and the May-July difference narrowed to about 40 points at the close. Exports today, 59,938, making 6,909,273 so far this season. Port receipts, 19,842. United States port stocks, 1,005,172.

PRICES REACTIONARY AT NEW ORLEANS.

New Orleans, April 26.—(AP)—The cotton market developed moderate activity today. Summer hours started with an opening at 8 a. m. an hour earlier, but the market closed at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, thus adding an hour to the length of the session. The trend of prices was reactionary owing to the rather better weather in the belt, but mainly because of the forecast for fair and warmer weather. After opening somewhat lower the market declined during the morning until losses of 14 to 15 points on old crop months and 20 to 21 points on new crops were shown. There was a rally of 5 to 8 points around mid-session which held until mid-afternoon, after which prices eased off again a few points, but the close was steady, showing net losses for the day of 11 to 14 points.

The private estimates of acreage were issued during the day, one making the decrease compared with last year 1 per cent and the other making the decrease 2.3 per cent, but the increase in use of fertilizer was 1 per cent. First trades here showed losses of 2 to 11 points owing to the more favorable weather, but prices rallied slightly during and right after the call. May trading at 17.86, July at 17.51 and October at 16.40. These proved to be the high points of the day.

The market soon started to ease off owing to the forecast for fair and warmer weather, and by mid-session May contracts were down 17.75, July to 17.39, October to 16.45 and December to 16.46, or 14 to 21 points down, compared with Saturday's close.

The market improved slightly after mid-session, May trading up to 17.80 and October to 16.52, or 5 to 8 points above the lows, but eased off some in the late trading, although recovering slightly at the end.

Total exports for the day, 59,938 bales.

The Day in Finance BY R. L. BARNUM.

New York, April 26.—Following a strong and very active opening, the stock market in the first hour reflected profit taking and resumed selling by professional traders. Steel, Rubber and Hudson Motors were heavily sold short with professional traders not even waiting for the market to open to sell the Hudson stock. The stock last named, opened down 2 points and then quickly broke short. On the decline in prices in the market as a whole, trading grew much quieter, a sign encouraging those long of the market.

Towards the close of last week the borrowing demand for stocks which had been very much larger later disappeared, indicating that the very large outstanding short interest which had existed had covered. From the opening of the market this morning there was a large borrowing demand for Skelly Oil, Hudson, General Electric, Pullman, Third Avenue. There was also a fair borrowing demand for Brooklyn, Manhattan Transit, and Sears-Roebuck. This increased bearishness was the result of a consensus of opinion on the part of professional traders that the news at the beginning of the week indicated that the recovery in the stock market had gone far enough and that the market would shortly begin to display top-heaviness on the long side. This conclusion was quickly justified by actual stock market developments. However, only a highly professional stock market is expected for the immediate future.

Estimates here in Wall street of what the steel corporation will report tomorrow in the way of first quarter net earnings range from $43,000,000 to $45,000,000 with the average $44,500,000. The steel corporation reported $40,000,000 for the fourth quarter of last year and $39,882,000 for the first quarter of 1925. For the first quarter of last year $2,839 a share was earned for the common stock, leaving a final surplus of $8,338,000, net of $4,500,000 would mean the regular and extra dividend earned with a final surplus of $10,000,000 for the quarter to be carried to profit and loss.

General Motors' earnings for the March quarter equal to 5 cents more than the full year's 7 per cent dividend for the common stock, a new high for any quarter and compared with $3.20 for the first quarter of 1925, was about what Wall street expected as paid out on this column last week. Today President Macauley, of Packard Motor, expressed highly optimistic views regarding the 1926 outlook for the motor industry. He believed 1926 will show a larger volume of motor business than 1925, even if general trade is spotty. He bases his conclusions on the actual results for 1925, compared with the figures actually in hand; on the liquid position of dealers and manufacturers; on the existing situation and outlook for used cars.

Mack Truck is expected to show a highly favorable March quarter statement within the next few days. Much interest was displayed here today in the bank clearings of the country for the past week, the leading centers reporting $10,041,703,967, an increase over last year of 11.6 per cent. New York banks showed a gain of 10.3 per cent on these figures, together with the very favorable railroad March earnings and recent railroad freight carloadings show that so far there has been no basis for the expected slowing down in general trade. A number of roads made a splendid showing today in March earnings statements.

Despite the deficit of $7,392,000 reported by the banks here last Saturday call money opened at 3-1/2 per cent this morning with the rate quickly dropping to 3. There was no change in time money, the rates continuing easy.

Rubber Situation.

A situation has developed in rubber that is being closely watched here and also in London. Following Secretary Hoover's efforts to bring about country-wide economy in the use of rubber in order to get crude rubber prices down the feeling was expressed in banking circles here that if this Hoover campaign proved successful it might make trouble for some of our tire manufacturers, who fearing a further advance in rubber had stocked up with high-priced rubber and had been running at a high rate of production to get ready for expected heavy spring and summer trade. As a result of the Hoover campaign tire dealers expecting a reduction in tire prices have been buying from hand to mouth and this kind of buying has a further accentuated by the cold spring. Tire manufacturers, it is believed, will have no difficulty in working off accumulated stocks as soon as weather conditions are favorable unless some of the tire manufacturers take it into their head to begin to slash prices, something that would be foolish and is not expected.

With the beginning of each new week speculative Wall street takes stock of the over-the-week news developments for the purpose of making any adjustment necessary in the mental balance arrived at the close of the previous week. On Saturday speculative Wall street left for the week-end with the feeling that the recovery in the stock market should go further as news and conclusion with the over-the-week news developments. Wall street started the new week with the accounts standing as follows:

On the unfavorable side of the ledger is found such over-the-week news developments as today's cables reporting London facing a serious industrial, political and financial crisis as a result of the deadlock in the demanded steel subsidy. Amsterdam cables state that the prevailing financial opinion there is that the high point of this particular period of American prosperity has possibly been reached and assessed with the decline in the orders in the steel industry and seemingly uncertain prospects of the motor trade at the present moment being watched for a possible fit in with today's forecast of trade recession by the Guaranty Trust company here which adds, however, the prediction that the "business recession" will be moderate and will not even extend over a long period. From New Orleans today's dispatches report a determination of southern cotton mill owners to begin May 1 curtailing production by 25 per cent or more. Chicago reports trade conditions in the west as "spotty."

Pittsburgh reports today that orders for steel show a decline with the trend of steel prices lower. Today's weekly average commodity price which was up a week ago compared with the previous week, shows a resumption of the downward trend which has been going on for months.

On the favorable side of the ledger is found today's continued easy money and higher opening stock market prices reflecting the belief that stock market-wise the expected slowing down in general trade has been over discounted. Next comes the very favorable General Motors earnings statements for the March quarter showing a decline of 7 per cent dividend more than earned during the first three months of the year. Next from the west comes reports of more favorable weather and a favorable crop outlook.

Live Stock.

Chicago, April 26.—Cattle, 20,000; fat steers and yearling trade mostly 25 to 40c lower, extreme top heavies 10.10, averaging 1.750 pounds; few loads 1.350 to 1.300 pounds bullocks 10.00; top yearling steers 8.75@9.75; lower grade steers about steady; better grades weak to 25c lower; light heifers off most; veal strong to 25c higher, 8.50@9.50; outsiders upward to 11.50.

Dry Goods.

New York, April 26.—A moderate demand for unfinished cotton goods developed today. Prices were steadier following sales of great quantities at low prices last week, and renewed reports of curtailment of production in southern mills. Wash goods were in better demand, especially printed cottons, silk and cottons and rayons. The burlap markets were unchanged. Further disturbances were reported in the Calcutta districts. More frequent announcements are being made of curtailment of production in silk manufacturing centers due to the light demand for classes of goods. The floor covering industry is curtailing more generally and sales of stock lots of goods are being made at concessions.

REACTIONARY TONE IN CURB MARKET

New York, April 26.—(AP)—Reactionary tendencies predominated in today's curb market. The selling was regarded as a logical sequence to the sharp upturn in prices last week, and apparently had no relation to outside news developments, most of which were favorable.

Considerable interest developed in the new General Electric Co. par stock, which was admitted to trading for the first time, opening at $1, advancing to $2, falling back to $0.12 and rallying again to $1. Total sales approximated 35,500 shares, or nearly one-tenth of the day's total business. Other issues admitted to trading included the common stock of Tampa Electric company and the recent bond issues of the Chicago & Northwestern Railway company, American Power and Light company, and City of Porto Alegre, Brazil.

Widespread fluctuations again developed in Ford Motors of Canada, which broke 33 points and 400 on a few odd lot sales. Other motors moved within rather narrow and irregular limits, Stutz, however, losing over a point. Electrical Refrigeration issues showed a strong undertone. Sewel and Electrical Refrigeration common each advancing about a point. Packing issues were weak in sympathy with those on the "big board."

Southeastern Railway company was subjected to heavy profit taking on the announcement that a congressional committee favored the leasing of the Muscle Shoals project to a power group which that company was interested, the stock closing nearly 2 points to 29.1-2. American Power and Light advanced over a point to 34.3-4, but most of the active public utilities showed small recessions.

Coffee.

New York, April 26.—Coffee futures opened today at an advance of 3 to 13 points and sold about 14 to 13 points net higher, July advancing to 16.98 and December to 15.85 on covering and trade buying inspired by reports of firmer Rio exchange rates and a steady spot situation. There was realising at the advance and last prices showed moderate reactions, but the market was 12 to 21 points net higher at the close. Sales were estimated at 51,000. Closing quotations: May, 17.04; July, 16.84; September, 16.21; December, 15.70; January, 15.45; March, 15.22.

Spot coffee steady: Rio 7s, 70@101; Santos 4s, 21@22. Cost and freight of free included Bourbon 2s and 5s at 20.80@21.50.

Reexchange on London 1-1/8 pence higher; dollar buying rate 50 reis lower; Rio market 250 to 350 reis lower; Santos unchanged to 200 reis higher.

Brazilian port receipts, 28,000; Jundiahy receipts, 15,000.

Cottonseed Oil.

New York, April 26.—After starting 6 to 7 lower with hard and grain, cotton seed oil firmed up today on urgent demand from May shorts and fair buying for investment on the strength in crude, also better cash trade in oil and compound. July sold at 12.64, a new high. Closing prices were ten to thirteen points net higher. Sales 20,800 barrels. Prime crude, 12.00 asked; prime summer yellow spot, 12.95@13.10; May closed 12.93; July, 12.60; September, 12.55; October, 11.85.

New Orleans, April 26.—The market for cottonseed oil futures ruled easier in the early trading owing to weakness in hard and the better weather in the cotton belt, but rallied again in the afternoon on the firmness of the spot position, which influenced near months. Prime summer yellow oil closed at 12.45 or ten points up. Prime crude was firm with 12c reported to be asked. Futures closed steady. May, 12.57; July, 12.22; August, 12.20; September, 11.67; October, 10.95.

Visible Grain Supply.

New York, April 26.—The visible supply of American grain shows the following changes, in bushels:

Wheat decreased 1,311,000.
Corn decreased 491,000.
Oats decreased 1,901,000.
Rye increased 277,000.
Barley decreased 211,000.

Naval Stores.

Savannah, Ga., April 26.—No naval stores market today; holiday.

Provisions.

Chicago, April 26.—Lard $14.20; ribs $15.75; bellies $16.50.

CABLES REPORT SALE OF WHITE STAR LINE

New York, April 26.—(AP)—Negotiations for the sale of the White Star Line fleet by the International Mercantile Marine company to Furness, Withy & Company, and Morgan, Grenfell & Company, were completed in London today, according to private cable messages received here.

58% Executives 10 Years Service

Men in the public utility industry remain in it remarkably long because of the large amount of business experience and technical training required to succeed in it and because of the satisfaction to them in supplying public service.

By actual count of all executives and department heads in the Associated System, 77% have served their respective properties 5 years or more, 58% 10 years or more, 23% 20 years or more, 14% have passed the quarter century mark, and 4% have served 35 years or more.

Good service means more than generating plants and transmission lines. Without efficient and courteous men and women the finest central station would fail in its purpose.

The long service of so large a proportion of executives within the Associated system not only provides continuity in management but makes possible the quality of service which can only come from seasoned experience.

New York, April 26.—(AP)—Profit-taking and bear selling halted the advance in the industrial, which had continued uninterrupted for seven consecutive days, in today's market. The railroad shares continued their rise to higher ground. Trading, which was largely of a professional character, showed a marked falling off in volume, the day's sales just crossing the 1,500,000-share mark, as against 973,400 in Saturday's two-hour session, and 2,328,700 on Friday.

The decline in the industrials was not associated with anything in the day's news, but was widely regarded as a natural readjustment after the vigorous upturn last week. Despite the sharp deficit in reserve shown in last Saturday's clearing house statement, call money renewed at 3 1/2 per cent, and the drop to 3, with an apparent plethora of funds available. Time money was on a flat four per cent basis, instead of 4 to 4 1/8, the closing rate last week.

Publications of the quarterly report by the General Motors corporation, showing earnings of $7.50 a share, was followed by the traditional "selling" of the stock. The price of the stock, which had risen from 129 5/8 to 126 3/8 and then rallying to 126 7/8 for a net loss of 2 3/8 on the day, heavy selling also broke out in the Standard Oil stock, which was driven down over five points before Saturday's closing quotation to 66 3/4 and then rallied about one point. The stock also developed in some of the other automobile issues.

Trading in the standard industrials was rather quiet, but practically all of them drifted to lower ground. U. S. Steel closed 5/8 lower at 121 1/2, after selling a point above that figure, and losses of a point or more were recorded by American Smelting, American Tobacco, Baldwin, Fleischmann, Gulf States Steel, S. S. Kresge, Studebaker, U. S. Industrial Alcohol and local traction.

Some sharp recessions took place in a number of specialties, which were bid up rapidly last week at the expense of the government bond market. Allied Chemical, American Safe

West End Theater.

The big Charleston contest which is to be held all week is entering upon its second night tonight.

The management has offered a score of valuable prizes to the winners, and interest is mounting higher every day of the contest.

The Million Dollar Handicap, a play having last times today, is the screen attraction. Vera Reynolds is featured in the production, which is a tale of the race tracks. No lavish scenes or gorgeous gowns, but human people in a most believable story make "The Million Dollar Handicap" a most unusual motion picture.

The demand for the rail centered at first in the high grade dividend paying issues, but eventually spread to some of the low priced carriers. Among the higher priced shares, the best gains were recorded by Louisville and Nashville, Norfolk and Southern, Pittsburgh and West Virginia and "Nickel Plate" common.

Commodity markets were mixed. Wheat prices rallied moderately with the May option advanced nearly a cent a bushel to $1.63. Cotton fell 3/4 to 24 points with selling in a spired by reports of better weather in the south. Coffee futures advanced 12 to 21 points in sympathy with a firmer market in Brazil, with the sugar market firm, raw sugar advancing 1-1/4 to a cent a pound.

Foreign exchanges were easier although Belgian francs rallied nearly 5 points to 34 points with the franc market was slightly easier around 3.35 1/2 cents. Norwegian kroner jumped 9 points to 21.66 cents. But other exchanges were rather narrow.

Trading in the standard industrials was rather quiet, but practically all of them drifted to lower ground. U. S. Steel closed 5/8 lower at 121 1/2, after selling a point above that figure, and losses of a point or more were recorded by American Smelting, American Tobacco, Baldwin, Fleischmann, Gulf States Steel, S. S. Kresge, Studebaker, U. S. Industrial Alcohol and local traction.
